IN LETTERS BOLD

Campbell Writes the Fate of McKinleyism.

Cleveland Tries to Outdo the Other Cities

In Greeting the Gallant Governor of Ohio.

A Splendid Speech Made to the People.

The Masses Are with the Man Who is Strong Enough to Attack the Enemy in the Greatest Stronghold it Has.

Cleveland, Oct. 22.—If Major McKinley will read the fifth chapter of Daniel he will find the words:

"God hath numbered thy kingdom and finished it. Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting."

Ages have passed and gone into obscurity since the Babylonian king saw the writing on the wall as he dined and drank wine from the gold and silver vessels of the temple, and again history repeats itself. In this age and generation the princes of protection may "read the handwriting on the wall." With the grand old state of Ohio in line for democracy and the people, with McKinley defeated and his policy doomed, with a brighter horizon for the poor and hardworking and with the stamp of disapproval upon the iniquitous system of robbing him to benefit his richer brother, the theory of so-called protection is doomed, and an untaxed people will rise to the greatest civilization and prosperity that the world has ever known or will know.

"The wayfaring man, though a fool," who attended the mass meeting in honor of Gov. Campbell in Music hall last nigth, might have read the emblazened "Mene, Mene, Tekel Upharsin" upon the outer walls of McKinleyism. The shouts of approbation from more than 6,000 throats, the uprising of a mass of people equal to an entire city, the waving of hundreds of handkerchiefs, the clapping and stamping of 24,000 hands and feet in honor of the gallant governor of Ohio made fitting accompaniments to the music "Hail to the Chief," which greeted the entrance of the man who is destined to save Ohio, and through Ohio the country.

Against the wall was an Australian ballot with a cross mark against the words "Democratic ticket." From the balconies, ceiling and chandeliers, from the top of the hall to the lower balustrade were festooned and hung in all shapes and in all forms and sizes the flag of the union; the emblem of untaxed and untrammeled freedom. In the air was victory; in the hearts of the people love of home, of country and of fellow man.

At 7:55 p. m. the seats in the lower house were filled, but scarcely a person was in the upper balcony. At 8:10 p. m. the upper balcony was filled to a crush and in all parts of the house people were standing up. Upon the platform were arrayed the flower of Cleveland's democracy. Throughout the house was a goodly sprinkling of ladies. It was not a rag tag and bum audience, such as disgraced the local republican party at its county convention the other day, but an orderly, intelligent and thinking audience of which Cuyahoga's democracy may well be proud.

The governor was a pronounced success. He was at once earnest, convincing and humorous. Almost every point was a hit and especially strong was that in which he said he would give to McKinley all the votes of those who felt protection if McKinley would give to him the votes of those who felt the tariff. His allusions to his Cincinnati reception were very enthusing, and his prognostication of big democratic gains in the western reserve evoked round after round of applause. Another effective point he made was of the man who had been benefited by the McKinley bill by leaving Carnegie's employ and joining the Pinkerton detective force.

Congressman McMillin spoke eloquently and strongly.

Our own Tom Johnson was called out with the enthusiasm always shown him by his constituents.

At about 8:15 p. m. the side door to the stage opened and the substantial form of Tom Johnson emerged. Mr. Johnson was followed by Hon. Martin A. Foran, Hon. Benton McMillin of Tennessee, Hon. J. M. Poe, Dr. S. B. Ingersoll and others. With them came the governor of Ohio, whose appearance was greeted with the wildest burst of enthusiastic applause which ever threatened the roof of Music hall.

This had lasted nearly five minutes when Col. A. T. Van Tassel jumped up and shouted, "Three cheers for the governor," and then it burst forth again.

"A year ago," said Mr. Kline, the chairman, as soon as the audience would let him speak, "there swept across this country such a storm of disapproval as in England would have unseated a prime minister and caused an entire change of administrative policy. But here we have with us still the old enemy. 'The evil that legislators do live after them.' True, most of these legislators have been called down by the people and retired to private life, but the old enemy is here in the shape of subsidies and bounties to take care of any unnecessary surplus that may lurk, the result of exorbitant taxation, in the treasury of the people. Now, here, on the chosen battle ground, Ohio, will the author of that bill meet with that other defeat that will prove the death blow to his life.

"If the people with convictions will vote for those convictions then the victory is won. It is of infinite importance that the state of Ohio take no backward step, but with Massachusetts and other states stand firm for a lower tax and a fairer policy.

"But my office here is not to make a speech but perform a pleasant duty. I have the great pleasure to introduce to you our champion who once led us to victory and will once more be elected our chief, Gov. James E. Campbell."

The house rose up. Every man, yes, and every woman, on the floor shouted with all the lung power that God had given him and raised aloft his pocket handkerchief and swung it to the breeze. Again and again, like the waves of the ocean, did the tumultuous cheering burst upon the air as the distinguished and handsome governor stood bowing and acknowledging the reception, which was in itself an uprising of support.

Gov. Campbell's Address.

The governor said:

"One would be indeed a stranger to emotion who could stand unmoved before such an acknowledgement as this.

"The speech you have just been making will prove more effectual than any that will be made in this hall or upon this platform this year. It speaks from the people. It speaks exactly what I predicted it would speak when I began my campaign in northeastern Ohio.

When we began the campaign in the western reserve we did something never before done in the heavy republican counties of the northeast. Since we were there every prominent republican speaker in the United States except Mr. Blaine who, for some inexplicable reason, couldn't come, has been asked to come to Ohio and help save the western reserve from the democrats.

When the republican party is in such straits that it has to beg for help to keep the western reserve in line, what is the matter with the rest of the state?

"When I got through with the western reserve I satisfied myself that we would poll this fall the biggest vote that had ever been polled there. Then I visited the equally strong democratic counties in the northwestern part of the state and from our comrades there I bring you greeting. They are in line and eager for the fray.

"Then I thought I would go down and see my very particular friends in the city of Cincinnati. Man and boy, all my life, have I lived within forty miles of Cincinnati and never on my very frequent visits there have I seen all told as many people as I tried to see there last Monday night.

"I want to apologize for the condition of my voice to-night and I think you will pardon it when I tell you that after making me speak to 10,000 people in the hall they took me out into the open air and made me speak to as many people as I could see in every direction I looked.

"Now, you would say that a man who had done all this and tried to please everybody would succeed, but no one ever had so much trouble to please the republican press of Ohio as I have had this year. When I showed the farmers of Ashtabula that they had lost $3,000,000 in the last 10 years and proved it to them by their last duplicate the republican papers raised the howl that Campbell is a calamity croaker and when I tried to ameliorate this condition of those famers and get them into good humor and to enjoying themselves the fault is found that Campbell's meetings are too hilarious, consequently I have had great trouble in holding just the kind of meetings to suit the republican press.

"In fact so far as suiting it is concerned I am a dead failure.

Another trouble is that I don't talk enough about sate issues to please the republican papers. This morning I read in the Cleveland Leader (hisses and cries of "Rats")—that is the paper, I believe, of which Ben Wade once said (laughter)—on second thought there are so many ladies present that I will not repeat what Ben Wade said.

Well, this paper after remarking in one editorial that Jan. 1, 1892, the state will be $300,000 more in debt than it was Jan. 1, 1891, and that this will be due to my administration, in all of which there is not a word of truth, says in another paragraph that it wonders if I would take part in a joint debate in my mismanagement of state institutions.

On that proposition I might say that if the paper read its exchanges it wouldn't have to ask such questions. Our committee has at least twice tendered the republicans eight joint debates. We have told them that they might select the dates and we would cancel our engagements. They could choose four topics and we four. Had they seen fit to accept the challenge we would have debated with them on state issues or anything else they chose."

At this juncture a big floral rooster was borne down the aisle to Gov. Campbell and he remarked, "There is a bird you can get up a joint debate about to your profit at any time. Turn it so that everybody can see the rooster."

Resuming he said: "A recent issue of the Cincinati Commercial-Gazette says that a vote for the republican party is a vote against the blank blanked ballot. The word blank is intended to cover up a Ben Wadeism. Thus does the republican party serve notice on you that it is pledged to destroy the Australian ballot.

"And why?

"Because there are men not in Ohio who are deeply interested in the outcome of this year's election and with the Australian ballot their money can't vote in Ohio.

"And not only that, but because of the Australian ballot the men who employ 100 wage workers are restricted to as many votes as any of his men have, and that is just one—less than.

"One of the beauties of a protective tariff is that a man in Massachusetts or in Pennsylvania can have more votes in Ohio than you and I who were born here and have lived here all our lives.

"Protection is the theory of selfishness. In 1789 it was 8 1-2 per cent. of selfishness and in 1890 it was 60 per cent. How long will it before all better nature is swallowed up in selfishness? Protectionism has run the same course and reached the same point that did slavery in 1860.

"It has come like slavery to be a burden upon the masses. And the answer to this is the answer that its champion made to me on the platform at Ada, which was 'Who feels the tariff?' I might have said in rejoinder, 'Well, who feels the protection?'

"The farmer who has seen his farm depreciate in value and his neighbor sold out at one-third of what his farm was worth; the wage workers who have toiled in heat and dirt ever since they were old enough for barely enough for the necessities of life; they feel the tariff whether Major McKinley knows it or not. If he will give me all the people who feel the tariff I will give him all those who feel the protection and I figure that I will have a majority of from 750,000 to 780,000 and to-morrow; no need to wait two weeks.

"Major McKinley insists that the foreigner pays the tax; so insisted at Ada. I had twenty-five minutes there to reply in. The Democrats there are a good deal like you are here. They cheered away fifteen of that twenty-five minutes and I didn' have time to say nearly as much as I wanted to. If I had I might have reverted in view of the foreigner paying the tax to the time when Chicago burned down.

At that time congress passed a measure relieving from duty everything except lumber that was to go to build up Chicago. Why was it that the foreigner was relieved from that duty?

"At a time when Eastport, Me., burned down (Mr. Foran and Mr. McMillan and I and some more good men were in congress at that time) Congressman Boutelle introduced a bill to take stuff in there free of duty. But we had found out that the foreigner pays the tax and we didn't pass the bill.

"I have a letter here which I received recently from Cleveland. It suggests that I take as a text the suit of John Wanamaker and others to recover between $8,000,000 and $10,000,00 revenues. It has not been reported that Wanamaker has returned this to the foreigner on the one hand nor to the country merchants to be paid back to the consumer on the other.

Of course on the articles the people had to pay the tariff twice—once when they bought them and once when the government reimbursed Wanamaker from the public treasury.

When I got this letter I sent to my house for the lid of a box. I was just starting away on the train, a lid to a box which someone sent me with some things he had found in Mr. Wanamaker's store and made to me a present of them.

"I had no doubt you would be glad to hear of my good luck, so brought the lid and some of its inclosures along with me. The lid is inscribed Wanamaker's British linen and has upon it the picture of the lion and the unicorn.

"Some envelopes are here which bear the stamp of having been made in London 'specially for John Wanamaker' and a number of placards accompany them, explaining how ulsters, cape coats and other clothing has been made up in London for 'us.' As to shirts these placards say we cannot get such a finish as this on shirts in this country. And yet they abuse me because I venture to say they cannot make tin plates in this country, when Wanamaker himself says we cannot evenly decently iron shirts. John Wanamaker evidently has an objection to the importation of pauper labor to these shores, so he sends his money abroad to employ cheap English labor in England. I would willingly pay a little tribute to American labor, but I object to paying money to John Wanamaker to have him send it abroad where he can buy cheaper than here.

"Who feels the tariff, does Major McKinley ask? Let me refer you to Bradstreet, who is a great deal better authority than the United States census of 1890. It says that the total number of mercantile failures in the United States for the first nine months of 1891 were 8,866, as against 7,538 during the same period of 1890, an increase in number of 1,328 and in percentage of 17. The 1891 total, since the passage of the McKinley bill, is the heaviest on record. I wonder if the poor fellows who have gone up feel the tariff.

"When McKinley was nominated for congress he said that things would boom. The only things that have boomed have been the democratic surplus, which has boomed into private pockets; business failures and gold which has boomed away from our shores."

Gov. Campbell then alluded with telling effect to the recent alleged readjustment which Mr. Carnegie had found necessary to make in his establishment at Pittsburg. A readjustment which amounted to a reduction. The reduction in Carnegie' shops was only an example of what had occurred in hundreds of other highly protected industries. Gov. Campbell also took occasion at this juncture to nail the lie which his rivals had uttered that he had spoken in disrespectful terms of the Bohemian toilers of the country in a recent speech.

"The protective tariff," continued the governor, "not only causes strikes in the protected industries but reduction of wages in the unprotected industries.

"In the city of Toledo there was a strike among the journeymen tailors. A merchant tailor stated to his journeymen that owing to the advance of prices under the McKinley bill in trimmings and linings wages would have to be lowered.

"I have asked a responsible importer in Toledo to state to me the exact effect of the McKinley bill upon his business. In reply the importer took four cases which indicate that the poor man's trimmings and linings are raised in price every time over those used by the rich man.

"The increase on cheap linings was 66 per cent.; on fine linings it was 31 per cent.; on medium goods it was 38 1-2 per cent. and upon the fine silk sleeve lining there was no increase whatever. These figures may indicate in whose interest the protective tariff is levied.

"Another statement which I want to make is to enter a protest against the decrease in the wages of women who are employed in the highly protected industries of America. (Applause.)

"American women are receiving average wages of $4.89 per week in the protected industries of Massachusetts and in many cases even less. On this salary American women are expected to protect their life and honor. That is the republican theory of protection.

"There is more squalor and misery in Pittsburg in proportion to its size than there is in the city of London.

"There are more evictions in the city of New York in one year than there are in Ireland in the same time.

"O, those protective gentlemen can weep great tears for the Irish unfortunates. I had a thousand times rather see no eviction in the United States than in Ireland. Major McKinley in one of his lofty flights has said, 'For me and mine we believe in home.'

"I believe in a home for the poor women who have to sew and scrub and wash. I believe in a decent home for the miner who delves all day in the dingy mine only to come out at night to enter a home as dingy as the mine itself.

"I believe that it is better for 100 workingmen to have decent homes to live in than it is for the man who employs them to live in a palace. (Applause.)

"Trusting, ladies and gentlemen, that your applause may increase for 13 days to come, I will give way to other gentlemen."

As the governor concluded the applause was remarkable. Cheer after cheer rent the air. The speech was a brilliant success, a credit to the author and it will be a telling factor toward the re-election of Gov. Campbell.

President Gleason introduced Mr. L. A. Russell as a man who had two years ago been defeated in his candidacy for governor by 700,000 votes.

"I want to say to Gov. Campbell," said Mr. Russell, as he looked the governor squarely in the face, "that at one time I took the liberty of a democrat and citizen and crossed his name from my ballot, but that on November I shall not cross his name but I shall put a cross at the left of his name. (Applause.) I have never in political matters abdicated or parted with my political powers, and at the coming election I shall consider it my duty, my pride, my pleasure, to vote for James E. Campbell." (Applause.)

Mr. Rusell paid an eloquent tribute to the club and closed with a stirring recitation.

BACK INTO THE WORLD.

The Horrors of Johnstown Flood Recalled.

Three Women, Whose Minds Gave Way Under the Awful Strain, Have Regained Their Reason.

Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—With all that has transpired since the fatal Johnstown flood in May, 1889, a blank to their minds until recently, three accomplished young women have been confined in the Pennsylvania hospital for the insane at Forty-fourth and Market streets.

Until a few days ago all was vacancy to their vision.

Now they are well nigh recovered from the clutches of the terrible disease that placed them there, and one of them will leave the institution within the next few weeks.

Her faculties have become as they were of former days, and she is now a perfectly sane woman.

When Johnstown was submerged beneath the waters of the flood, these three were not among the thousands of unfortunates swept to sudden death; but, if they escaped, a worse fate was reserved for them. The fearful shock of the calamity was to great. Acute mental disorder soon succeeded sorrow and despair, and their friends had them placed in the hospital. That was over two years ago.

Unremitting attention and careful treatment have been given them unstintedly, and not in vain. Dr. John B. Chapin, the physician of the hospital, who is chiefly responsible for their recovery, said yesterday that there was no doubt that all three would in a short time be absolutely well.

It is an interesting fact that the trio who are about to pass from darkness to light are of the highest culture. They are well educated and thoroughly refined, and one of the three plays the piano delightfully.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—World's fair officials treat with contempt the report from Paris that France will not participate in the fair because of the exhibition buildings being constructed of wood. They declare the report was started by hostile French newspapers for the purpose of being subsidized, but their ambition will not be gratified.

THE ITALIAN MARKET.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Mr. Whitehouse, charge d' affaires of the American legation at Rome, cabled the state department to-day that the Italian government had removed the restriction against swine products accompanied by certificate of inspection. The decree against the importation of live swine is still in force.

FREE TUITION.

Bethelem, Pa. Oct. 22.—The board of trustees of the Lehigh university have unanimously passed resolutions abolishing free tuition on and after January 1, 1892. The resolutions name the tuition fees to be paid after that date.

SENT TO PRISON.

New York, Oct. 22.—Wilson, the manager of the female baseball teams, has been sentenced to five years in state prison and $1,000 fine for abducting Libbie Sunderland.

REMOND TO LEAD.

He will have as Hearty Support as did the Late Parnell.

Dublin, Oct. 22.—John E. Redmond, who arrived at Cork last night said, in replying to an address of welcome, that he spoke as "the elected leader of the parliamentary party."

Pierce Mahoney, member of parliament for the northern division of Meath yesterday, in an address which he delivered before the national league, declared that he was ready to follow the leadership of John Redmond as loyally as he had that of Parnell.

REVOLUTION IN PARAGUAY.

London, Oct. 22.—A Buenos Ayres dispatch reports an abortive attempt at revolution in Paraguay. The government acted promptly and the rebels were suppressed with little difficulty. Being sharply followed up by government troops, the revolutionists fled across the frontier of the Argentine Republic, where they were at once interned.

FLOODS REPORTED.

Madrid, Oct. 22.—News comes from Granada of fresh and disastrous floods in that province. Many houses have been wrecked and a great number of cattle lost. Railway travel in the province is at a standstill.

CARRIAGE MAKERS.

Cincinnati, Oct. 22.—The carriage men began the second day of their convention with a largely increased attendance, and the capacity of Dexter hall was fully taxed to hold the large audience.

COULDN'T STAND M'KINLEY.

Sensation in the Republican Camp at Wellsville.

Committeeman Roberts Resigns and Takes Off His Coat to Work for the Democrats.

Wellsville, Oct. 22.—A bomb was thrown in the republican camp at a meeting of the city central committee by the announcement that George Roberts, a member of the committee, had resigned because he could not support McKinley.

The announcement caused the greatest surprise, as Roberts has been one of the most prominent republican politicians in this county for a number of years, and though a laboring man, has a great deal of influence in the city, particularly among the railroad employes.

At the last republican county primaries his work directly brought about the nomination of Speaker for prosecuting attorney and Lodge for sheriff.

He has now pulled off his coat and is working hard for the success of the state and county democratic ticket, and conservative republicans admit he will play havoc with his old party's majority in this city, which is always over 300.

A great effort will be made to counteract Roberts' influence, but it is deep-rooted and will stand republican manipulations, despicable as they are.

AN OHIOAN KILLED.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 22.—An outgoing passenger train on the Big Four road struck a man at the junction bridge yards, a mile north of East St. Louis, and injured him so that he will die.

The only thing found on his person to show who he was was a postal card directed to W. D. Park, Dupont, O. It was written by the grand keeper of records and seal of the Knights of Pethias, and contained instructions as to hotel accommodations to be secured for a meeting to be held in Cincinnati about the 20th of last May.

BACK FROM THE SEAL ISLANDS.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—The Russian steamer Alexander II, with 26,000 skins, arrived yesterday from a Siberian port. Her captain in speaking of the seizure of the whaling schooner J. Hamilton Lewis, denies that the captain of the schooner or any of her crew had been shot for poaching by Russian officials.

FLOODS IN GREAT BRITAIN.

London, Oct. 22.—Dispatches from every part of Great Britain are arriving here to-day, all telling of the vastly increasing floods. It is feared that the damage consequent upon the submerging of property will aggregate an enormous sum. For a distance of 30 miles the Thames has overflowed its banks.

BLAINE IN BOSTON.

Boston, Oct. 22.—Secretary Blaine and several members of the family went to drive this morning shortly after breakfast. They will return to luncheon and later in the afternoon, at what hour is not yet definitely known, the party will leave Boston for New York.

VOORHEES TOUCHED.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 22.—Ten or twelve well-known persons had their pockets picked here Monday night. Among them was Senator Voorhees, who was relieved of his pocketbook containing about $700 in drafts and about $50 in money.

NOT BETROTHED.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—The statement that Prince Ferdinand, heir to the Roumanian throne, is betrothed to Princess Marie, eldest daughter of the duke of Edinburgh, is here declared to be without foundation.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD.

London, Oct. 22.—Gilbert Vendor, president of the Gold Queen mine of Colorado, has been arrested in this city on the charge of misappropriating funds with which he was entrusted.

DR. GLANVILLE DEAD.

London, Oct. 22.—Dispatches received here this morning announce the death at Matabeleland from exhaustion, of Dr. Doyle Glanville, the leader of the British South African expedition.

INGALLS SICK.

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 22.—Hon. John J. Ingalls was unable to lecture in the Academy of Music last night on account of sickness. He is at the home of his father, E. T. Ingalls.

HEAVY LOSS.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Fire in Wallabout market caused a loss of $75,000; well insured.

NATURAL GAS WAR.

Dayton Having Trouble with the Companies.

The Corporation Will Not Invest Any More Money Until a Better Understanding Exists.

Dayton, Oct. 22.—As a result of conferences between representatives of the natural gas company and the citizens' committee the company announced its ultimatum by resolutions which are interpreted to mean that the company will not invest another dollar until the city agrees to abrogate the present rate schedule and increase the price of the fuel.

The specific promises asked and expected from the company were that the latter would put down additional wells and develop the nine-tenths of the territory as yet untouched.

Instead of being specific, the company is prolific and advisory rather than promissory. The consumers are advised to get ready for other fuel on or before December 1, when, if the supply is insufficient, the company will surrender its franchise. The action of the company will doubtless result in litigation and intensify the feeling that now exists against the company.

FOUGHT AGAINST ODDS.

Interesting News Concerning the Chilian Riots.

None of the American Sailors Were Armed.

They Made a Noble Defense in What is Now Believed to Have Been a Deliberately Planned Assault on Them.

New York, Oct. 22.—The Herald's Valparaiso dispatch this morning says the condition of two of the six sailors from the Baltimore who were wounded in the cowardly attack by the Chilian sailors and rabble last week is now considered critical.

The names of the injured Americans are Hamilton, Talbot, Turnbull, Anderson, Davidson and Panter.

The inquiry, so far as made, discloses the fact that gross cruelty was practiced upon the Americans, and that the attack was planted. It is alleged that Matt Ragan was shot by a policeman. It has also come to light that in no case was one of the Americans armed, and the valiant fight made against a force greatly their superior with only nature's weapons to defend them, is highly commended.

In justice to the Chilians, it must be said their information has been received to the effect that a few of their army and naval officers and seamen displayed bravery in trying to shield the Baltimore's men from the fury of the mob. Capt. Schley advises the coming here of the admiral to aid by his presence in seeing full justice done to the victims of the cowardly, blood-thirsty assassins.

CANTON NEGRO COLONY.

A Large Influx of Colored Men Who Come in From Nowhere.

Canton, Oct. 22—There has been a large influx of colored men to this city within the past week and there is good ground to believe that they have been brought here for no other purpose than voting the republican ticket.

A story had been started after Charles Hawkins murdered Anna Lacy, that they were here for the purpose of lynching Hawkins, but this proved to be untrue. From whence they came and how long they have resided in Ohio cannot be learned, but it is a fact that they are here in time for registration, to-day and to-morrow, if the registration officers will allow them to subscribe their names on the books. Most of them are well dressed but have no visible means of support, and it looks as if some committeeman is furnishing the "long green" for their expenses while in the city. The matter needs investigation at least.

REVENGE IS SWEET.

Harrison is Now Getting Even with Cameron.

He Squeezes Him on a Real Estate Deal in Order to Get Even with Him on the Force Bill Matter.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—President Harrison has never forgiven Don Cameron for his successful opposition to the force bill. Their relations have been purely formal ever since, and Cameron has neither sought nor received any favors at the White House.

It transpired to-day that the president's feeling against Cameron was as strong as ever, carrying him to the point of even making Cameron a conspicuous exception to a rule adopted by the Rock Creek park commission in dealing with property holders owning land within the proposed park limits.

The commission decided, after appraising the land within the limits at $600,000, to allow owners who asked not more than 33 per cent. additional the full amount asked.

Don Cameron, one of the largest owners, having a holding valued at $100,000, agreed to let the commission have it at a price within the prescribed limit; so did other owners. All their offers were accepted by the commission subject to the approval of the president as required by the act of congress.

It was learned to-day that the president had approved the action of the commission in all cases except Don Cameron's. It is supposed that Don Cameron's property will now be taken by condemnation proceedings, the government insisting on the minimum appraisal of the commission. This may cost Senator Cameron several years' salary.

SHOT HIMSELF.

A Bank Officer Commits Suicide When About to Be Arrested.

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 22.—Joseph A. Filek, who until Tuesday was manager of J. S. McCaleb's Slovenski bank here, suicided yesterday. An officer went to arrest Filek for embezzling $69 and Filek shot himself. He was about 30 years of age, a Slav by birth, and came here from New York about four months ago.

When Filek died his house was surrounded by Slavs who said he had their money and they were clamorous to regain it.

THURMAN'S CONDITION.

Washington, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Columbus to an eastern paper says: "Judge Allen G. Thurman will probably not long survive his beloved wife. For several years and up to the beginning of her last illness she was a faithful nurse to him. She looked after him as carefully as a nurse watches her child. He is confined to his room nearly all the time and is very weak and feeble. Though nearly four years his senior, Mrs. Thurman was sprightly and active up to the beginning of the past summer.

SMALLPOX IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Oct. 22.—A case of smallpox has been reported to the health department. The victim is 7-year-old Harry Jackson, son of Samuel L. Jackson, superintendent of Krohn, Fe'ss & Co., cigar manufacturers, of East Sixth street. The boy was stricken with the malady about two weeks ago.

THE MACY REPORTED.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—The American bark W. H. Macy is here awaiting orders to sail for Europe. This is the vessel that was reported in Chinese advices to have sustained serious damage in a cyclone in Chinese waters. She is loaded with wheat.

JONES IN HIS ELEMENT.

New York, Oct. 22.—Lieut. Gov. Jones is, by the constitution, acting governor in the absence of Gov. Hill. He says he will act as such and certain politicians are agitated lest he take advantage of the situation to fill certain vacancies in his interest.

REFUSED TO ACCEPT THEM.

New York, Oct. 22.—Judge Benedict declined to accept J. B. and C. W. Tallman as bail in $50,000 for James A. Simmons under sentence of six years for bank wrecking, because they had been indemnified against loss by Simmons.

DAYTON'S PUBLIC BUILDING.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The secretary of the treasury has awarded the contract for the apparatus to the public building at Dayton to L. E. Gannon of Washington, D. C., at $3,255.

STARVING PEOPLE

Have No Mercy on the Speculators.

Terrible Tales of Suffering in Mexico.

Corn Held at Four Dollars a Bushel,

And the Man Who Cornered it Shot to Death.

The Drouth Not Yet Broken and Many Months of Suffering, Sickness and Hunger Stare the Citizens in the Face.

San Antonio, Tex., Oc. 22.—W. T. Robertson, the contractor for the construction of the Durango extension of the Mexican international road, arrived here yesterday. The destitution among the people of that section of Mexico, he says, is even worse than reported, the drouth not having yet been broken.

The government has removed temporarily the duty on corn on account of the famine, and large quantities are being shipped from the United States.

The famished people, however, receive but little benefit in prices, as corn falls into the hands of speculators who put the price up.

A few days ago a wealthy land owner living near Torreon named Kaleras received a big consignment of corn, the price of which he placed at $4 per bushel.

When the poor, starving cattle herders in the vicinity learned of his action, a mob of them got together, and proceeding to Kaleras' home, took him out and shot him to death.

ONLY A STRAW.

Tiffin, Oct. 22.—A "straw vote" was taken on a Pennsylvania train between this city and Mansfield, yesterday, by Hon. D. M. Harter, of Mansfield, and Nelson W. Miller, an attorney of this city. The result was: Campbell 30, McKinley 18, Seitz 6, Ashenhurst 3.

SANE ENOUGH TO GET AWAY.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Frank Collier, the lawyer who has been confined in the insane asylum at Dunning for several months, made his escape this morning by breaking away from his attendant and jumping into a buggy that was standing near the asylum gate. A woman whose name is unknown was in the buggy. She gave the reins to Collier, who drove rapidly toward the city. The asylum authorities gave orders at once for a chase and also notified the city police.

STEELE DENIES IT.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Gov. Steele, of Oklahoma, admitted to a reporter that his resignation had been tendered to the president, but declared in emphatic tones that he had not been tendered the office of pension commissioner.

He resigned to give his interest in the gun works at Marion, Ind., attention, and because of the belief that the office should go to a man who intended to make Oklahoma his home.

NEW POSTOFFICERS.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The postoffice at Blaine, Washington, was to-day raised to the presidential class. The incumbent, James Barnes, has been continued postmaster. The president to-day appointed Wm. Meyer postmaster at Sabetha, Ks., Vice James F. Clough, deceased; and John Amesse at Lake Linden, Mich, Vice Wm. Harris, deceased.

DIRECT TAKES THE MONEY.

Big Sensation at the Nashville Races.

Three Straight Heats for the California Pacer, One of Them in 2:09 1-4—More Records Broken.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 22.—Thousands of broken Tennessee hearts and thousands of empty pocketbooks were carried away from Cumberland park last evening.

Hal Pointer, their pride, the horse that carried all their money, had suffered defeat in three straight heats, the matchless California pacer, Direct, showing him his heels with comparative ease.

The time of the second heat was the best ever made in a race in harness, lowering Pointer's record half a second. Neither of the flying steeds broke in either heat, and moved like clock work all the way around. Hal Pointer had the pole in the first heat, and held it until the quarter pole was reached, when Direct, who had been on almost even terms with him from the start, made a magnificent spurt and secured the inside of the track.

After that it was easy sailing, and Ed Geers pulled up Pointer before reaching the wire.

The second heat saw Direct at the pole, and he held it throughout. The best Pointer could do was to stay abreast of him until reaching the half-mile post, where Direct gradually drew away, the Tennesseean's fine spurt of speed in the stretch being of no avail. It was believed that the champion could have gone in 2:08 had Pointer pressed him more closely, he running easily in 2:09 1-4, George Starr driving him magnificently.

The last heat was a repetition of the others, Direct leading nearly all the way.

The time by quarters was:

First heat—32 3-4, 1:05 1-4, 1:38 3-4, 2:10.

Second heat—32 1-4, 1:04 1-4, 1:36 3-4, 2:09 1-4.

Third heat—32 1-4, 1:05, 1:38 1-2, 2:11.

Hal Pointer was a big favorite in the pools on the first heat, selling $100 against $30 for Direct. Even money and 6 to 5 was obtainable against Direct in the books.

The betting in the second heat was not materially changed from the first, but the third found Direct selling at $10 against $5 for Pointer.

The grand stand, lawn, club house, betting ring and every available space was filled with crowding, jostling humanity, the big match race absorbing nearly all the interest of the day's sport. Summaries follow:

RECORDS BROKEN.

Stockton, Cal., Oct. 22.—Two more world records were broken on the Stockton track to-day. A Palo Alto yearling (Bell Bird) driven by Marvin, went against her record of 2:27 3-4 and made the mile in 2:26 1-4. Her quarters were: 27 1-2, 1:14, 1:51, 2:26 1-4. The filly did not make a skip in the mile.

Marvin then drove Arion, by Electioneer, against his record of 2:15 3-4, and made the mile without a skip, finishing strong in 2:14 1-2. The quarters were: 34 1-2, 1:07, 1:41 1-2, 2:14 1-2.

At the conclusion of Arion's trial, the timers all agreed as to the time and veteran horsemen said the record would never be beaten. Orrin Hickock said he never saw such a game finish. He said: That is the horse that will make 2:00 minute work if any horse ever does."

Palo Alto came out lame, but warmed up well and went against his record of 2:12 1-4. He made the mile in 2:11 1-4, thus lowering his record. His quarters were: 33 1-4, 1:05 3-4, 1:39 1-4, 2:11 1-4. Some of the watches made it 2:11 and two of the timers were only a shade over 2:11, so it was called 2:11 1-4.

A NEW NINETY FOOTER.

A Steel Schooner to be Built for Racing.

New York, Oct. 22.—The contract for a 90-foot steel schooner for Louis Clark, of St. Louis, was signed at the office of William Gardner, 15 Whitehall street, to-day.

This order has been in the air some time, but has finally landed, and the yacht will be started soon by George Lawley, the Boston builder.

Mr. Gardner made a design for Mr. Clark last spring, but since then the lines have been changed somewhat, and the plans call for new and novel features. The model shows the effect of the Gloriana's success. The afterbody is clean, like all the Gardner productions, while the forebody possesses a full water line.

Approximately the dimensions of the new yacht will be: Beam, 19 feet; draught, 10 feet, 6 inches. She will be a keel boat, and as she is to be used largely for cruising the weight of her hull will be considerably greater than if she were intended exclusively for racing.

Her stern post rakes about 47 degrees. The rise of her keel is gradual from the heel, where is the greatest draught, and the line is broken abruptly by a forefoot which drops nearly perpendicular from the full bow. Her diagonals are unusually fine.

Her greatest beam is abaft the center, and her topsides tumble home slightly amidship. Her bilge is easy, and while she shows that she will move over the water, she will not try to do it without creating a disturbance on the surface; and her forefoot, while holding on to windward, will also be of the same service off the wind that the lee bow wave is to the Gloriana—that is, the forefoot will counteract any tendency to carry a lee helm.

The rig of the new yacht will resemble that of the Volunteer in having the foremast well forward, and also a large mainsail. The mainmast will be considerably longer than the foremast.

AUGLAIZE DEMOCRATS.

Wapakoneta, O., Oct. 22.—(Special)—The democrats of Auglaize county will be addressed by Hon. Chas. F. Crisp, of Georgia, and Hon. W. C. Warner, of the New York tariff reform club, of New York, next Monday evening, October 26th. The meeting will be held in the opera house. They are expecting a big crowd.

WORKED BY A WOMAN.

Wapakoneta, O., Oct. 22.—(Special)—The First National bank of this city and the Home bank of St. Marys was visited by a strange woman with a note of $450, with names of three prominent farmers as security. One of the sureties came to town and pronounced the note a forgery.

SLY OLD BROTHER BLAINE

What Are the Expectations of the Maine Man?

Believed to be Scheming Against Harrison.

According to Rumor the President's Only Hope of Renomination Lies in the Belief that His Secretary Is a Physical Wreck.

Washington, Oct. 22.—There is no longer any doubt in the minds of those men who have made a thorough investigation of the matter and those who are intimate with Mr. Blaine that Blaine expects to be the next republican nominee for president.

Within two weeks he has repeated to a prominent gentleman what he said to those who waited on him last spring, that, while he will not be put in the attitude of a candidate for the nomination, he will refrain from writing any more letters of declination, and that if the nomination is tendered him he will accept it.

In order to avoid being put in the attitude of a candidate seeking the nomination, he has instructed Mr. Manly, who is his manager in Maine politics, to see to it that the delegation from that state does not present his name to the convention.

He will probably goes as far as to have the Maine delegation cast their own vote for Harrison as a compliment to relieve him of the suspicion of disloyalty to his chief in this administration.

This is all arranged, however, with the distinct understanding that his name will be presented to the convention by the delegations from other states, and if the nomination come to him in this way he will accept.

Mr. Harrison, while he has been unable to get anything from Mr. Blaine himself, or directly from those who can speak for him with authority, has become convinced that the situation is as above described, and his only hope for renomination lies in the belief that Mr. Blaine is physically and mentally incapacitated for further public service and will, therefore, be unable to run as a candidate for the presidency even if he should desire.

It must not be inferred from the fact that Mr. Blaine and his friends are anxious for him to be a presidential nominee, that he is to-day the man he was four years ago.

His intimate friends keep asserting and reasserting that he has completely recovered, that his mind is clear and he is physically active, but disinterested persons who have been brought in contact with him—persons who have no particular interest in politics, declare that he has lost his grasp of business and political matters and is not capable of taking active part in anything which requires mental exertion.

A very prominent gentleman who called on Mr. Manly to try and get at the truth as to Blaine was informed by Mr. Manly that Blaine was fuly restored to health and that, while he would not permit the Maine delegation to present his name before the convention, he (Manly) had no doubt at all that he would be the next republican nominee.

This statement that Blaine has been restored to health may be true, but if so his recovery has been remarkable. Statements made by thoroughly reliable parties who have no interest whatever in politics and who were in Mr. Blaine's company shortly before he left Bar Harbor state that at that time his mental condition as a result of nervous prostration was as bad as described in dispatches from Bar Harbor some months earlier.

AUDITOR OF THE TREASURY

For the Postoffice Department Reports

What Wanamaker's Boys Are Doing In the Way of Supporting One Branch of the Government.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The annual report of the auditor of the treasury for the postoffice department showing the receipts and expenditures of the postoffice department for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1891, has been submitted to the postmaster general.

It shows that the postal revenues during the year were $65,931,785. The expenditures to Sept. 30, 1891, were $71,662,463, leaving an excess of expenditures over all revenues of $5,730,677. The amount placed with the treasurer to the credit of the department, consisting of grants from the general treasury in aid of postal revenue under the act of June 30, 1890, was $2,200,000. The excess of expenditures over grants is $3,530,677.

The amount of balances due from late postmasters whose offices were closed by suspension is $330, by bad debts $14,064, compromise debts $8,482, making a net loss of $22,876. The amount to be placed with the treasurer is therefore $3,553,554.

The amount of stamps, stamped envelopes, newspaper wrappers, letter sheets and postal cards sold during the four quarters of the past year was as follows:

Sept. 30, $14,374,724; Dec. 31, $16,263,881; March 31, $16,554,343; June 30, $15,366,825, making a total of $62,559,775.

The total cost of mail transportation was $39,014,155.

A RIVAL FOR EDISON.

A Western Man Claims a Great Invention.

Death Qualities Taken Out of the Dynamo.

A New Contrivance by Which the Operator Can Warm His Back Teeth Without Running Any Risk of Being Killed.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 22.—F. J. Crouch, of Eugene, has invented a harmless dynamo which a child can handle without fear of danger. When the Eugene Light company was organized four years ago he became its electrician.

Then and there he set to work to invent a harmless dynamo, one which would not require expensive insulation nor entail danger to life. The dynamo on exhibition at the exposition is the result of four years' of study and experiment.

Upon it Mr. Crouch has spent every cent he has earned in four years, exclusive of the cost of providing for his family. His invention, rude as it is, represents an outlay of between $5,000 and $6,000.

Mr. Crouch said yesterday that he was tempted several times to give up the work, but seeing he had gone so far and spent so much money he determined to hold up his end and win or lose.

Once he adjusted things wrong and received a shock which sent him across the room.

Mr. Crouch says his machine is very simple, and adds that the secret of success is in the winding, induction and proportion of metals. There is another secret which he will not divulge.

He says the success of his invention is in one wire, but he does not desire to discuss the matter. Mr. Crouch gave his invention a severe test in the presence of several people, including a reporter, yesterday afternoon.

His principal purpose was to show that his machine was harmless, and that it was impossible to get a shock from it.

"Do you think I can do it?" he asked of those around him.

A dubious look crept over the faces of all in the party. No one would volunteer to be the subject of a test, so Mr. Crouch volunteered.

Mr. Crouch then took two naked wires from the terminal of the dynamo and placed them in his mouth. If he had fallen dead no one would have been surprised.

He kept the wires in his mouth a moment, and, removing them, said calmly that he had not been shocked. The only thing he felt was a tickling sensation on the tongue.

"Probably there is no power in the wires," one of the spectators suggested.

Mr. Crouch smiled and released a 16-candle power incandescent from its attachment. Then he put the wires into his mouth again, crossed them and connected them with the incandescent lamp, and a bright light shone from the globe.

Then the inventor placed his hand on one of the brushes and a spectator took hold of the other, and the two joined hands. Mr. Crouch broke the current repeatedly, but neither he nor his friend was in the least affected.

Mr. Crouch explained that his machine required an absolutely metallic circuit or it would not work. Other machines ground and became useless with this kind of a circuit.

The inventor then wrapped each of the wires around a piece of carbon, and placing his hands around the naked wires brought the points of the carbon into contact. The result was a 2,000-candle power arc light, which shone with dazzling brilliancy.

Previously Mr. Crouch rubbed one of the wires on a carbon which was connected with the other wire and the first wire melted.

A feature of Mr. Crouch's exhibit is a 16-candle power light burning in a jar of water, the naked wire being exposed to the water. Right above the jar is a light and an electric bell on the same circuit.

A telegraph instrument has been worked a distance of three or four miles on the same line as an electric light without damage to either branch of the service. Again, the incoming and outgoing wires of the dynamo have been run without insulation through mud, and have then started lights without any loss of power.

Mr. Crouch says his dynamo has the power of 10 volts. It will run 50 16-candle power incandescents with 4 1-2-horse power, including friction.

In inventing it Mr. Crouch says he cast aside all the theories of construction of electrical machines and started on a new track.

POISONING THE WATER.

The American Straw Board Company Indicted.

The Company Has Been Emptying Refuse Matter Into the Sandusky with Fatal Results.

Tiffin, O., Oct. 22.—The grand jury has reported, finding an indictment against the American Straw Board company for polluting the waters of the Sandusky river by emptying the refuse from their mill, in this city, into the stream.

Thousands of fish have been killed north of the city, and the water in the river becomes so poisonous during the summer droughts that horses have died from drinking it.

The farmers held indignation meetings, and finally brought about the action taken to-day. As the company has nearly $200,000 invested in its plant here it will fight the case in the courts. The jury investigated seven other cases, among them being that of Joseph Willis, the gambler, who eloped with 14-year-old Mollie Townsend last April, and who is charged with abduction, but found no bill, except in the case of the Straw Board company.

WARBLED FOR THE PRESIDENT.

Laura Schermer Mapleson Sings in the White House.

Washington, Oct. 22.—A soiree musicale was given at the executive mansion last evening the invitations to which were confined to members of the cabinet and the diplomatic corps and their families, and some intimate and personal friends of Mrs. Harrison.

The program of music consisted of vocal selections, all sung by Madame Laura Schermer Mapleson, who, with her husband, Col. Henry Mapleson, came over from New York upon written invitation of the President and Mrs. Harrison for this purpose.

At the close of the concert, the president presented Mme. Mapleson with a bouquet of roses and an autograph photograph of himself and Mrs. Harrison, in a silver frame.

The party then repaired to the new dining room where supper was served, and when the guests returned to the east room the president requested Mme. Mapleson to sing "The Star Spangled Banner" and escorted her to the piano. She rendered the national air with thrilling effect, the president and the entire company joining in the chorus.

INDIAN CHILDREN.

They Must Attend School—The Government Takes a Hand.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The commissioner of Indian affairs, with the approval of the secretary of the interior, to-day issued rules and regulations to enforce the attendance of Indian children of suitable age and health at schools established and maintained for their benefit. The rules prescribe that every Indian youth shall attend some school, but so far as practicable the preference of Indian parents or guardians or of Indian youths of sufficient maturity and judgment will be regarded as to whether the attendance shall be at government public or private schools. Children of a suitable age is defined to include all those more than 5 and under 18 years of age.

The suitable health of a child is to be determined by a medical examination. In case there is no boarding school on the reservation the rules require that the children be placed in non-reservation schools. Where children are not allowed by their parents to attend school they will be reported to the Indian office for whatever punishment the circumstances warrant. The rules make it the duty of agents, special agents and supervisors of education to use their authority whenever necessary to secure the attendance of Indian children at school, and whenever necessary Indian police will be called upon to enforce attendance.

LIFE AMONG THE TOUGHS.

A Wedding and Murder Within a Few Hours.

A Bad Character, Released from Jail, Marries a Widow, Whose Dead Body is Found the Next Day.

Trenton, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Parks, widow of Archibald Parks, was married Tuesday to Daniel Ryan, a middle aged man, of this city. The body of Mrs. Ryan was found Wednesday afternoon in a pond on the outskirts of the city. The couple lived in Allen street, that part of Trenton known as the "Swamp."

Neither the woman nor Ryan bore a good reputation. Ryan was released from the county jail Monday, and the first thing he did on obtaining his freedom was to call on Mrs. Parks and to induce her to marry him. It is known that the couple were duly married, but their movements after the ceremony have not yet been traced by the police.

The body of the woman now lies at the morgue and the county physician will make an autopsy to determine the cause of death. The fact that Ryan has disappeared leads to the belief that the woman met with foul play.

Detectives Pilger and Leahy, of the police headquarters, are at work on the case. The detectives learned that Ryan and his bride after getting married celebrated the event by going on a spree. They drank considerable whiskey and it is supposed they became intoxicated.

Whether the woman fell into the pond accidentally, while in a helpless condition, or was thrown in by her husband, is a question which the police have to solve. Ryan is known as a bad character, and some think he quarreled with the woman and threw her into the pond. The theory of suicide is generally discredited.

CALLED BACK TO ENGLAND.

A Minister Who Was Too Out-Spoken.

Rev. Arthur C. A. Hall Has Offended the Church and Must Pay the Penalty.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 22.—Loyalty to Bishop Brooks and to American ideas has caused the recall to England of Rev. Arthur C. A. Hall, the eloquent and devoted head of the Mission church of St. Peter the Evangelist in this city.

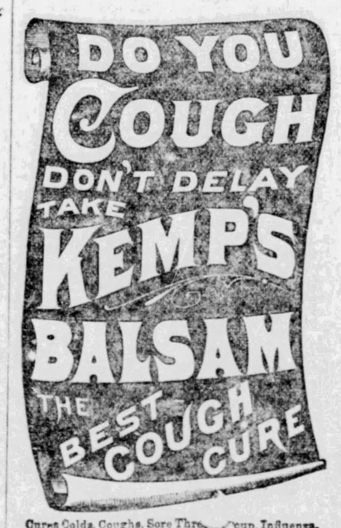
The establishment here is under the control of the Cowley Fathers, an English order, and Father Hall has been with his present charge 18 years.

His ostensible offense in the eyes of the Superior of the order is that though he voted against Dr. Brooks in the convention, he, as a member of the diocesan standing committee, acquiesced in the election.

The real reason for his recall is more likely his espousal of American ideas and his courage in expressing them, as he did at the general convention in 1889.

He will return to England about November 11, and in his place will come the clergy who have been lately connected with St. Clement's church, Philadelphia—Rev. W. H. Longridge, Rev. C. N. Field and Rev. Duncan Convers.

Father Benson is expected from England in a short time to superintend the new mission clergy of St. John's, but will not probably remain permanently. Rev. Henry Torbert and Rev. C. H. Bent, who have been associated with Father Hall—not as members of the Conley Brotherhood, but as friendly workers in its interest—will withdraw from the Bowdoin street parish at the same time with Father Hall.



Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages. A sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. SOME SPICY CURRENT TOPICS

Of Local and Neighborhood Interest.

Notes and Comments on Incidents Occurring Daily—Prepared for Readers Who are Hustled for Time.

THAT NEW PAPER.

A number of ladies interested in the establishment of the new woman's paper in Toledo met yesterday afternoon. No definite action was taken, as several of those who hav been among the originators of the idea were unavoidably absent. There will be another meeting next month.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION.

A slight explosion of natural gas occurred in the city pipe line trench on Tecumseh street yesterday afternoon and two men were scorched, but not seriously. The explosion was caused by one of the workmen throwing a lighted match into the trench after lighting his pipe.

REVIVAL MEETING.

The revival meeting in Adams street Mission last evening was well attended and full of interest. Mr. McLean preached. General Slevin followed with Bible lesson indorsing what had been said. Several persons kneeled for prayers. Meeting this evening at 7:30. All are welcome.

THE CADETS' "CARTRIDGE BOX."

The Toledo Cadets are making extensive preparations for their annual "Cartridge Box," and have fixed the dates for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 17, 18 and 19. An interesting program is being arranged, and all who attend will be royally entertained.

STRANGE FIND.

A five months' old female foetus was found in the alley between Summit street and St. Clair, in the block between Jefferson and Monroe. The foetus was preserved in a jar of alcohol and was taken to the health office. It is thought that it had been discarded by some doctor.

G. S. S. SOCIAL PARTY.

Invitations are out announcing the first social party of the Golden Star Serenading club, to be given at Webber's hall, Wednesday evening, Oct. 28. Arrangements are in charge of H. H. Rolfes, president; J. F. Blaser, vice-president; E. J. Fox, secretary; H. L. Rutschow, T. H. Drulard, P. Purney, H. J. Duvendack, E. Farrar.

THE LAUREL CLUB ENTERTAINS.

The Laurel club gave its first party at Eversman's hall last night. A gay crowd of young people was in attendance, and a most enjoyable evening was passed. The party was conducted by John J. Hamlin, J. P. Bell, W. S. Wilcox, J. F. Degnan, R. J. Ward, J. T. Cunningham, J. F. Corcoran, H. M. Collins, J. E. Burns.

HORSE STOLEN.

A black mare was stolen from the barn of Henry Woodward, living in Adams township, last night. The horse is described as weighing 1,100 pounds, 15 hands high, with a white star on the forehead and one white hind foot. The police are on the lookout for the horse and the thief.

OFF ON A PLEASANT MISSION.

Jas. A. Dailey, assistant cashier of the L. S. & M. S. railway, accompanied by his wife and family, left last night for Washington, D. C., to pay a short visit to Mrs. Dailey's sister, who for the past ten years has been a nun connected with the Georgetown seminary. The two sisters have never met during that whole period, and this reunion is one they have looked forward to for many years.

WANT TO GET THE BOYS OUT.

The parents of the young Johnkoski and Moross boys who were sent to the Reform Farm yesterday are making an effort to have the sentence changed. The lads are only 12 years old and were convicted for stealing seven hams from Brown's meat market. The parents claim that they did not know the boys were to be tried yesterday, but supposed that the case was to come up to-day, and consequently there was no one in court to says a word for the lads.

THAT CENTRAL AVENUE ROAD.

The engineers appointed by the county commissioners to measure the masonry of the disputed sections of the Central Avenue stone road have completed the work, with the exception of a small portion of section 12. For some reason or other, just at this point, when a half day would complete the measurement so that the results could be made known, work suddenly ceases. Of course the approaching election hasn't anything to do with the sudden check in proceedings.

THE COMING K. L. CONVENTION.

District Secretary Stevens is in receipt of a letter from John W. Hayes, secretary-treasurer of the general assembly, K. of L., announcing that Mr. Hayes, with the committees on law, credentials and finance will start for Toledo on November 4. The headquarters of the general officers will be the Jefferson house, and here the committees will be in session for the week preceding the convention, getting business in shape to go before the delegates. Secretary Stevens is appointed a member of the committee on credentials.

ANOTHER CHURCH PAPER.

"The Methodist Herald" is the title of a new monthly church paper just launched at Fremont by the pastor of the charge at that place, Rev. J. L. Albritton. It is full of good things local and general, and cannot but prove valuable in the line of help to the work and workers. Mr. Albritton was formerly pastor of St. John's in Toledo, and has hosts of friends here who will wish him success in his additional avocation as a full-fledged editor, even if it is only a monthly publication.

BROWN BOUND OVER.

Frank Brown, charged with burglary and larceny, had a hearing in police court yesterday afternoon and was bound over to the grand jury, with bail fixed at $500. Brown is charged with stealing a pair of pants from a boarder at Schoeffel's boarding house on Superior street.

James McGlynn and Cornelius Quinlan, charged with having robbed Charles Hahey in Kelley's saloon, were given a hearing in police court this morning, and both were bound over to the grand jury. Bail $500 each.

FATHER BRAIRE'S FUNERAL.

At the meeting of the French society of St. Joseph's church last evening arrangements were concluded for Father Braire's funeral, which the society will attend in a body. Resolutions of repect were adopted and the pall bearers will be chosen from the Catholic clergy of the city. The route of the funeral procession will be from the church, corner of Erie and Locust streets, along Erie to Madison, to Seventeenth, to Dorr, to Calvary cemetery, where the remains will be interred. The funeral will occur at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

ANOTHER HORSE GONE.

A horse and buggy belonging to Mr. George C. Stahl was stolen this morning from in front of the Monroe street school building. Mr. Stahl had entered the school, leaving his horse at the curb, and he had not been gone but a few minutes when a man was seen to jump into the buggy and drive off on Lawrence avenue. The horse is described as a black mare with a white star on the forehead. There was also a valuable silk dress pattern in the buggy. The police were notified and set to work on the case, but have not yet found a clue.

BIDDY DONOVAN DEAD.

Toledo horsemen will be pained to learn of the sudden death of George H. Ketcham's celebrated mare Biddy Donovan. The rainy weather had kept the mare in the barn for a few days, and on being driven yesterday showed signs of weakness. She was returned to her stable and Dr. Newton was called, but could do nothing for her, and she died. The cause is given as muscular paralysis. Biddy Donovan was sired by Rolly Wilkes, and was purchased by Mr. Ketcham early in the summer. Last week Mr. Ketcham was offered $4,000 for the mare by a gentleman living in Lexington, Ky. The news was wired to him yesterday, and he wired back to have her buried in the center of the plot on which he intended to build a race track, at the Ketcham stock farm. Biddy's best trial record was 2:24 3-4, on a half mile track, and her standing record 2:27, in the seventh heat of a race on a half-mile track.

DUSSEAU NOT GUILTY.

The jury in the Dusseau rape case retired for deliberation yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and at noon to-day returned a verdict of not guilty. Dusseau was charged with committing rape on the person of Cora Lee at Manhattan last 4th of July.

HE WANTS TO BE REINSTATED.

Attorney L. G. Richardson to-day forwarded to Mansfield brief on a motion to dismiss an action in the common pleas court of Richland county.

The suit was filed in this court by Dr. Anderson, of Mansfield, against the senate of the National union, headquarters of which are in Toledo.

Dr. Anderson, some time ago, was expelled from this body for cause and now seeks, by mandamus, to reinstate himself.

The defendant filed a motion to dismiss at the close of the plaintiff's testimony, on the grounds that under the pleadings and proof the plaintiff is not entitled to the remedy sought.

RECEPTION TO DELEGATES.

The parlors of Trinity church were the scene of a delightful reception yesterday afternoon tendered to the delegates of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, en-route to attend the annual convention, to be held in St. Louis.

An elegant spread was laid, about 3 o'clock, by the Daughters of Trinity.

Among the prominent members present were Bishop Atwill, of Missouri diocese, formerly of Toledo, Bishop Leonard, of the Ohio diocese, and Dr. Rainsford, of St. George's church, New York city.

The delegates left last evening for St. Louis.

POLICEMEN AT THE TRANSFER STATIONS.

For some time there has been stationed at each of the street railway transfer offices on Summit street, a member of the sanitary force doing police duty and protecting street car passengers and others from passing teams. Health Officer Fisher finds, however, that these men can no longer be spared from the sanitary work and they will be withdrawn.

At the transfer stations there is always a crowd of people and oftentimes reckless drivers dash into the crowd, endangering life and limb. These officers have been a great protection and have been kept busy. Now that they are withdrawn the street car companies should place men in their places and it would be a good idea to get for them special police powers.

KEENAN-STRATTON.

Mr. Edwin C. Keenan and Miss Georgie Stratton were united in marriage last evening by Rev. E. Hannin, of St. Patrick's church. James P. Feely, Jr., acted as groomsman and Miss Lillie Keenan as bridesmaid.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents in Auburndale. At 11 p. m. the bridal party left for New York and Philadelphia.

The bride is the charming daughter of James Stratton, Esq., ex-postmaster of Auburndale, and the groom is bookkeeper in Engineer Rockwell's office of the L. S. & M. S. railway company.

The many friends wish them complete happiness. On their return they will reside in Auburndale.

HE ORGANIZED A CAROUSAL.

Parley Bailus, who keeps a saloon on Nebraska avenue, was tried yesterday in police court on a charge of organizing and conducting a disorderly carousal at his place about two weeks ago. On the night in question Bailus held a public dance in a room next to his saloon, and the evidence showed that the entertainment was patronized by men and women of very low character, and was conducted in a most disorderly and indecent manner. Bailus was found guilty and fined $25 and costs. Frank Blaze, Joseph Shinever, George Cole, Henry Recht, Emma Godi, Pearl White, Blanche White and Jeanie Pierson were also tried for engaging in the carousal. The judge, however, decided that the law did not reach their case, and they were discharged.

THE TROST-HACKER WEDDING.

St. Paul's Lutheran church was well filled last evening by friends to witness the marriage ceremony of Miss Lena S., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Trost, to Mr. Louis J. Hacker, one of Toledo's popular residents. It occurred at 6:30, and was a pretty affair. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk, with chiffon trimming, the groom wearing the conventional black. Mr. Henry Trost and Mr. Will Jonas acted as best men, and Miss Lizzie Trost and Miss Emma Hacker as bridesmaids.

The wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's parents on Hicks street, where a reception was held, which lasted some hours. Numerous presents were left as mementos of the occasion. Best wishes of a large circle of admirers will be with the couple for a pleasant journey through life.

STILL ANOTHER SOCIETY.

Last evening a branch of the Order of the Sons of Benjamin was formed at Meyer's hall, the work being accomplished by Grand Master Samuel M. Parks, of New York. The name selected was Pleasant Valley lodge, and is numbered 144. The lodge already has forty members. Officers chosen were as follows: President, Henry Rosen; vice president, H. Goodman; recording secretary, K. Abraham; financial secretary, Michael Dallet; treasurer, H. Dalbert; trustees, Joseph Levin, Emanuel Kohn, Max Feher; outer guard, S. Becker; inner guard, Robert Frank. Hereafter regular meetings will be held at Turley's hall on the first and third Sundays in each month. Jewish citizens are cordially invited to unite with the organization, which is purely beneficial in character, and seeks to aid the suffering poor, the exiles from Russia.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a meeting of the St. Joseph French Catholic Benevolent society the following resolutions were adopted:

Considering that the Almighty God in His infinite power has afflicted our St. Joseph's parish by taking from us our pastor, our brother, our noble and beloved Father Braire; therefore,

Resolved, That we promise never to forget the eminent virtues of our good and loyal pastor, and we will never forget the advice he gave us.

That all the members of the society and the congregation are to wear deep mourning for at least one month in honor of our beloved pastor.

That these resolutions be sent to Mgr. Boff, administrator of the diocese, to the members of the family of the deceased, Louis Braire, and to the newspapers of the city of Toledo.

JOSEPH DUPREZ, President.
ALF H. ROBERT, Vice President.
HENRY G. OLIGER, Secretary.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Another camp of the Sons of Veterans is being formed in East Toledo.

The ladies of St. Andrew's mission will give a New England supper at Baumgardner's hall, to-morrow evening.

Meeting for the boys will be held at Association hall at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Leader will be announced later.

John Peifer was convicted in police court this morning of assault and battery and fined $10 and costs, amounting in all to $32.20.

Try the celebrated Rose brand hams bacon and dried beef; also fresh, salt and smoked meats, sausage, etc., at Jacob Folger's, South St. Clair street.

The jury in the case of John V. Arnsman against August F. Hipp, an action for damages for assault, returned a verdict for the plaintiff, allowing $400.

Pickell & Yarrick filed suit in common pleas court to-day against Ransom B. Thomas et al. to recover $244.29, on a judgment rendered in common pleas court.

Dr. Newton has sold a full brother to Rolly Wilkes, 2:20 1-2, Jackson Wilkes, a yearling bay colt, sired by Newton's Rolly Wilkes, for $1,360, to Cyrus Bosworth.

A special meeting of the Railway Clerks' association was held at Friendship hall last evening. Albert Thompson, of the Ann Arbor, and T. R. Donovan, of the Lake Shore, were elected to membership.

All young men desiring to join a class for the practice of orchestral music are invited to meet in Y. M. C. A. hall Saturday evening at 8 o'clock for organization and practice. Dr. L. T. Canfield will direct the music.

Mr. Libbey will have a building 200x240 feet erected at the World's fair, and will give the people an opportunity of seeing made every kind except window glass. Thus far he is the only manufacturer of glass who will exhibit at the fair.

A camp-fire on a small scale was enjoyed by Forsyth post and a few guests last evening, which was a pleasant affair. Short addresses were made by a number of comrades, there was music by the Jolly Four, preceded by a decoction of coffee, sandwiches, etc. Old Forsyth keeps "right in it," as the boys say.

The gospel song service for young men to be held next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock will be addressed by Rev. Wm. H. Sloan, pastor of the First Baptist church. Members of his choir will furnish the music. He will talk about "The Heroic Spirit." All young men are given an urgent invitation to be at this important service.

CLOVER LEAF ELECTION.

S. R. Callaway, President, and M. L. Crowell, of Toledo, Secretary.

The new board of directors of the Clover Leaf organized in New York yesterday afternoon and re-elected S. R. Callaway president. Mr. M. L. Crowell, of this city, was elected secretary, and Mr. Howard Gilder, of New York, treasurer. Mr. Isaac D. White was elected paymaster. This is victory for the Kneeland interest over the Quigley interest.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Congressman Haynes is in the city today.

Judge H. G. Baker, of Defiance, is in Toledo to-day.

Miss Ina Blaine has accepted a position as cashier at Nicholas and Buchanas.

Miss Mary Stack and guest Miss Shanahan left to-day to visit relatives in Norwalk.

Mrs. Dr. Emery, of Lansing, Mich., is the guest of Mrs. J. L. Pease, of Monroe street.

Miss Mattie Ward, of Chicago, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Jennie Ward, 733 Missouri street.

Mayor Buerkle and Judge Grayson Mills are in the city shaking hands with their numerous friends.

Miss Maggie Stack, of Wade street, left to-day to visit friends and relatives in Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Mrs. Jessie Beard, of Oberlin, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Culley, of 715 Hicks street.

Miss Kate McLaughlin gave a pleasant social to a party of friends at her home on Canton avenue last evening.

Mrs. Gary Powell has returned to her home in Chicago, after several weeks visit with her parents in Toledo.

Mr. Henry Jones and mother returned to Ft. Wayne to-day after a pleasant week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Schultheis, Madison street.

Mr. Fred Quine, the popular Auburndale druggist, who was nearly suffocated by natural gas a few nights since is reported as being improved, although quite ill yet.

Mrs. Frank Bement, of Superior City, Wis., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stratton. Last evening Mrs. Bement presented her parents with a little grandson. The mother is doing well as is also the child.

Rev. R. B. Pope, D. D., of Coshocton, O., formerly pastor of St. Paul's, is visiting his brother, Rev. P. P. Pope, on his return from attendance of the funeral of Rev. Benjamin Day, an old and prominent Methodist of Ann Arbor, Mich.

WHAT IS BEAUTY?

Nineteenth Century Culture Raises the Standard

"Yes, she is decidedly pretty; but not half so pretty as her mother was at her age!" How often do we hear this remark when we venture to praise some beauty of the present day in the hearing of any one of an older generation, says the St. James Budget. It suggests an important question—whether the standard of beauty is changing; and if so, whether women are more or less beautiful than they used to be. This is a question which may happily be answered to the entire satisfaction of the present generation. There can be no reasonable doubt that there is geater beauty now, and more of it, than at any previous time.

No woman has been more celebrated for her beauty than Mary Queen of Scots; but, if she were to walk unannounced into a London drawing-room to-day it is doubtful if she would cause much remark. No doubt she would still retain the power of captivating the people with her charms, but she would no longer bewitch them by her face. It is true we can hardly realize what Mary was like; we are not even sure of the color of her hair or her eyes. The various authentic portraits of her are strange ly dissimilar. They only agree in this—that they all show us a face which disappoints us.

As we are not satisfied with a degree of beauty which was enough for Mary's contemporaries—which sent the men of her day off their heads, and filled her cousin Elizabeth with deadly jealously—the inference is, that the standard of beauty has risen; and the rise has probably been gradual and constant, each generation making a certain advance on its predecessor. One can hardly resist a conclusion of this kind without looking over a collection of portraits of a single family for three or four centuries, such as one may see in any large old country house. The further back we go, the plainer the ancestors become; and, if we begin with the earliest and trace them down to the present time, we find them steadily improving as we advance.

It may be said that this is the fault of the old painters, who did not know how to make good likenesses. But no one has ever looked at Holbein's portraits of Henry VIII., full of life and character as they are, without feeling that the real Henry stands before him. And if Holbein can give us such life-like representation of Henry can he be incompetent to give us any idea of Anna Boleyn? Yet the beauty of Anna Boleyn, as Holbein represents it—the fatal beauty which lured Henry from his allegiance to Catherine—is certainly not such as we should rave about now.

And the best possible proof that Holbein was quite as able to flutter his sitters as some later artists is the fact that it was his picture of Anna of Cleves which decided Henry to wed that princess though the royal Bluebeard is described as fearfully "discouraged and amazed" when she appeared before him in person. It seems evident, therefore, that the ideal beauty of the sixteenth century was inferior to that of the nineteenth, and this can only have been due to the absence of a higher degree of beauty upon which to form the ideal.

THE LONDON LITERARY HIVE.

The great London literary hive is the library of the British museum, with its vast and handsome reading room. It occupies the internal quadrangle of the museum building, so that it is to some extent concealed from the ordinary visitor's view. When he passes up the flight of stone steps, under the Ionic columns and through the great door, he stands in a spacious entrance hall, from which lead off wide galleries on either hand, and a noble central stairway. He may well overlook the humble glass door inscribed "Reading Room." Yet, on passing through the door—to do which presupposes the possession of the proper ticket—and proceeding along a short passage, he finds one of the most surprising of all the museum exhibits, and one that is not exceeded in interest by any other there displayed—at any rate to the book lover's fancy, for to him the view of tiers of well-filled shelves is as the sight of the apathetic turtle in a tank to the apoplectic alderman's vision. There is a finer circular domed building provided for the reading room of the British museum. The dome is 140 feet in diameter—a dimension only exceeded by that of the Pantheon at Rome. St. Peter's famous dome is a foot less in measurement across. That of the tomb of Mohammed, at Bejapore, is but 135 feet. St. Paul's cathedral's dome is less than the museum's dome by 28 feet, and that of the Mosque of St. Sophia, Constantinople, is less by 34 feet. The height of the museum dome from the ground is 106 feet. When the reader, weary of poring over miserable type, or yet more crabbed manuscript, would fain give the tired adjustment of his eyes a moment's rest, he can sweep his gaze over the lofty and well-proportioned dome with perfect artistic satisfaction.—Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for November.

IN TRADING CIRCLES

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

London wheat market, spot rather firmer; on passage more inquiry. Corn strong. Liverpool wheat steady. Corn firm and dearer.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 1,156,285 bu, compared with 607,118 bu on the same day last year.

Beerbohm's advices from St. Petersburg, October 7, state that Russia has no intention of prohibiting the exportation of wheat.

Odessa wheat market October 6 was above export value in consequence of expected interior demand.

California Crop.

The surplus of wheat for export in California is rated at 25,000,000 to 28,000,000 bu. The extraordinary statement is made by the Minneapolis Market Record that there are on the way to San Francisco, including vessels now in port, and due last of February, to transport 29,000,000 bu. We think the statement erroneous.

French Crops in Bushels.—The French government report of the wheat crop is 226,000,000 bus. That of the most conservative private authority, the "National Association of French Millers" make it 200,000,000 bus.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 549,167 bus. in excess of the corresponding Thursday in 1890. The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were 355,357 bus. of wheat and flour to an aggregate of 440,000 bus. The export of corn was 197,476 bus. English markets as reported herein are firm without quoted change in prices.

The Wheat Situation.

It is becoming clear to the minds of dealers that the extravagant early anticipations of the value of wheat in the near future cannot be realized. We had no sympathy with this view of the situation and have from the commencement hoped that $1 per bushel could be maintained at the lake ports. We have not averaged that price in Toledo and our average is above any other lake market. Since Sept. 1 the lowest price has been 94 1-2c and the highest $1. The average is 97 3-4c to yesterday. Two reasons account for this change in sentiment of extreme bulls. One is that our own crop of wheat is fully demonstrated to be the largest on record and now generally estimated at 600,000,000 bushels, and the other is that the early estimates of deficiency abroad are not confirmed by the latest returns. Besides these two reasons the home-grown grain is coming on to the market more or less and less of foreign wheat is needed to supply present necessity.

There is no ground for doubt but a large export demand will continue for wheat and corn, and possibly for oats. One contingency may largely increase the demand for wheat, and that is the prohibition of exports by Russia, but there is no reason to expect that very soon, if at all.

The wheat markets in this country are very unsettled to-day. Opening prices higher and the market improved in the first hour, and at one time the gain marked 1c over yesterday's close, when the market began to weaken and steadily declined. It seems to be a fight to-day between New York bulls and Chicago bears. Receipts keep right up all over the west, and Toledo has 152 cars on track to-day, besides what may come in by canal. Exports are also in good measure.

We know of no good reason for a break to-day, as foreign prices, say at Antwerp, Paris, Berlin and London, are all reported higher for wheat and flour, but there is too much speculation for steadiness.

The wheat markets sold down and closed lower than yesterday.

Corn has been maintained to-day and has been steady. Ocean freight is 1-2c cheaper. The markets close unchanged east and west.

In New York Oct. and Dec. wheat closed 3-4c lower. Corn unchanged. Nov. oats steady.

In Toledo business in wheat futures has been lighter, and prices close easier and 7-8c lower for Dec., after being 1-2c above the closing of yesterday. The close was weak. On the call Dec. sold at 99 3-8c to 99c and 99 1-8s. After the call Dec. sold at 99 1-4c to 99 5-8c and closed at 98 1-4c. May sold at 105 1-2c to 106c and closed at 104 3-8c, a loss of 3-4c.

Cash wheat was weak and in light request. No. 2 soft opened 97 1-4c, yesterday's closing price, and sold down to 96 1-4c, a loss of 1c. No. 3 soft at 94@95c. No. 4 soft at 88 1-2c. Rejected No. 2 at 78c. No. 2 hard at 94 1-2c. No. 3 hard at 88 1-2c.

Corn—Nothing doing. No. 2, 57 1-2c.

Oats—No. 2 at 29 1-2c; No. 3 at 27 1-2c.

Rye 1-4c better, at 88 1-2c for No. 2 No. 3 at 85c.

Clover seed was very quiet and a shade cheaper. Prime for cash at $4.50; No. 2 at $4.15 to $4.30.

Seed Market.

Paris Agricultural Seeds.—Paris, Oct. 7.—Cloversead—If one can judge from the samples of new seed received from the Bretagne, Vendee, the center and the west, the new crop is of good color; but really fine seed will be scarce. In quantity the yield is everywhere small. High prices are spoken of, viz., 130fr. for mediocre seed, and at Niot yesterday 120fr. to 130fr was quoted. The Lucerne crop is also good in quality, but unimportant in quantity; up to 120fr. paid for extra quality.

The general stock market was dull this morning, but Atchison, St. Paul, Erie and N. Y. C. were very active and the chief interest centered in the stocks named. The opening was weak with prices fractionally below those of yesterday. Shortly after the opening there was a slight rally, but it was only momentary and under the lead of sugar trust, which was again very weak, the whole list declined fractionally by 11 o'clock. Sugar trust fell from 86 3-4 to 85 1-4. After 11 o'clock the market was absolutely lifeless. The tone continued heavy and prices fluctuated but slightly. Most of the changes noted were toward lower prices. At this writing the market is dull but steadier. The sales of the day up to noon amounted to 134,200 shares.

New York, Oct. 22—Cotton steady; middling uplands, 8 7-16; futures quiet; October, 88.05; November, 88.15; December, 88.32. Wheat opened 3-8c higher and strong, and further improved 5-8c in the first hour. Fr[illegible] there was a decline of 3-4c by noon; No. 2 red winter cash, $1.04 3-4; December, $1.05 3-4; January, $1.07 3-8. Corn opened firm at 1-8c advance, moved up 3-8c more, and at noon was firm; No. 2 mixed, 65 1-2c cash; November, 62 3-4c; December, 56 1-4c; January, 53 1-2c. Oats dull but steady; No. 2 mixed cash, 36 1-4c; November, 36 1-2c; December, 36 1-2c. Rye, barley nominal. Molasses dull; New Orleans ordinary 15c@17c. Sugar refined in better demand and firm; cut loaf and crushed 5 1-8c; powdered, 4 3-8c; granulated, 4 1-4c@4 3-8c. Coffee steady; fair rio cargoes 15 1-2c. Rice nominally unchanged. Pork steady with prices dull; new mess $11 00. Lard quiet; Dec. $6 68; Jan., $6 78. Butter steady; western extra, 32 1-2c. Cheese quiet but steady. Eggs fancy scarce and firm; western fresh, 23c. Turpentine steady with moderate demand at 36 3-4@37 1-2c. Rosin dull but steady; strained to good $1 32 1-2@1 37 1-2. Tallow dull; prime city 4 3-4c. Petroleum nominal. Freights dull but firm; grain to Liverpool 5 3-4d.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Close: Wheat—Dec. 94 1-2c, May $1.01 1-8c. Corn—Nov. 49 7-8c, May 42 1-4c. Oats—Nov. 29 3-4c, Dec. 29c, May 31 5-8c. Pork—Dec. $8.90, Jan. $11.37 1-2, May $11.75. Lard—Nov. $6.27 1-2, Dec. $6.32 1-2, Jan. $6.42 1-2, May $6.72 1-2. Ribs—Nov. $5.05, Dec. $5.92 1-2, Jan. $5.92 1-2, May $6.12 1-2.

Detroit, Oct. 22.—Close: Wheat—No. 2 red cash 96 3-8c bid, Dec. 98 1-8c bid, May $1.04 5-8c, No. 1 white cash 93 1-2c. Corn—No. 2 cash 55c. Oats—No. 2 cash 29c.

Gov. Campbell had an immense meeting in Cleveland last night. The enthusiasm was great, and hundreds of republicans were present who declared their opposition to McKinley.

The republicans will have a big meeting to-night and Gov. Foraker will make a big hurrah speech. This is a Forsker place, much to the sorrow of John Sherman.

The republicans had a big fizzle at Air Line Junction last night. Even Kent Hamilton couldn't convince the crowd that McKinley should be elected, and as for Fassett, the boys wouldn't let him speak at all.

Secretary Blaine's manifesto reminded President Harrison and the rest of the party that he (Blaine) was the man who [illegible] the noble reciprocity deed; at the same time it offered cold comfort to the McKinley campaigners.

Reciprocity, a la Blaine, is free trade with a string tied to it, and hold of that string is the president, and behind the president is a horde of beneficiaries who control legislation by virtue of their money grip upon the republican party. The spectacle is not a reassuring one.

Minister Reid preaching free trade to the French people, in behalf of American meats and grains, while his party at home is promulgating the doctrine that only by a high protective tax can national and individual prosperity be maintained, is a political spectacle viewed from either side of the water.

The Blade scurrilously abused Capt. P. H. Dowling last night because his son Harry is a candidate for office on the democratic ticket. Capt. Dowling is an esteemed citizen of Toledo, a worthy father of a mighty good boy. The abuse referred to shows to what low depths the lamented D. R. Locke's paper has descended of late years.

Marshal Field & Co. have just paid $3,000 tariff on $1,400 worth of pearl buttons. These buttons, twenty-five and thirty cents a dozen in this country, are "thrupence" in Paris and London. Mr. Field was lectured by republicans for telling the truth about the matter, and bluntly informed his interviewers that every merchant knows the tariff is a tax, and his customers know it, too.

The work of inspecting the Central avenue stone road is suddenly stopped. No reason is assigned, but people are wondering why Engineer George Bodette, who has been relied upon to tell the truth, stops at an interesting time of the inspection. He has always borne a splendid reputation, and people are loth to believe he could be wrongly induced to drop the work in this fashion. Why is the work stopped just now? Can Candidate Englehardt tell why?

The path of the high-tax orator is not laid with soft fleece when he goes among the wool manufacturers to explain how the "beneficent" works. Tom Reed got quite out of temper with his Worcester (Mass.) audience because the woolen manufacturers clamor for free raw material. Said he:

"I cannot understand how any man can have the face to stand up and say: 'I demand on my woolen carpet, the product of my mill, a large duty, and at the same time I will not pay any man anything more for the material which you use to make that carpet. In other words, I will have protection on my carpet, but you shall not have protection on your wool.'"

No better exposition of the fallacy of the whole tax argument could be made than the words of Mr. Reed. If equal rights enter into the deal at all, one tax calls for another and by the time the taxer gets round, ratios are the same, an expensive artificial and unsafe basis for trade is built up and no man is benefited. Benefit accrues to the few only when the many are laid under unjust tribute without corresponding returns. The essence of the law of protection is privilege to some and patriotic endurance for others. Mr. Reed would better let logic like the above severely alone. It will lead him into deep water.

The action taken at the meeting of the Knights of Labor in this city yesterday relative to the World's fair and Sundays is indicative of the feeling generally entertained by the laboring men of the country upon this question. It is probably the view of the majority of the people, of all classes, that if no sales are made or attempted upon that day, which of course could not be, and will not be, allowed, and if the machinery is not run, and under no circumstances will it be, then the art departments and other exhibits may be visited upon the first day of the week without any impropriety whatever. But it is significant that while those who are opposed to the Sunday opening of the exhibits are passing resolutions and circulating petitions and addressing communications to the Columbian commissioners to that effect, those who believe to the contrary are content with the individual expressions of that belief, and are taking no concerted steps to influence the commissioners or public opinion. That a body representing laboring men and women formulate this demand shows upon whom would fall the deprivation if the fair grounds are closed upon Sundays. That day is for them not only a day for worship but it is a day for rest and recreation, and their only one. It is just and humane to ask those who can visit the world's fair grounds upon any day of the week whether these less fortunate people are to be deprived of the privilege upon the only day when for them it is possible.

The organs purposely misunderstand and misquote. Democrats make no claim that tin can not be manufactured in this country; with sufficient aid from the government, that is, by laying other industries under tribute, any commodity may be grown, any article manufactured. The question is, are the people of this country of alleged equal rights ready to assume extra burdens to establish a business that, with everything in favor, can make way for itself in an honest and legitimate manner. President Garfield said that every such plea was based upon utter selfishness, a demand for privileges which others may not enjoy, else there would be no benefit.

The ridiculousness of the hurrah about tin manufacture, three months after a double tax is levied upon it; the implication that tin mines and tin mills were ready to burst into blossom the moment they were touched by the magic wand of tax is apparent to any thoughtful person. It is too puerile to be indulged in by "statesmen," even in a political campaign.

The readers of the Commercial were astonished this morning to read the following editorial endorsement of Charles P. Griffin:

"Hon. Charles P. Griffin created an exceedingly favorable impression in his speech at Swanton on Tuesday night. His familiarity with public questions from both theoretical and practical standpoints fit him in a marked degree for the responsible position to which he has been nominated as the representative of the people in the legislature of the state; a position he has adorned through a series of years during which enactments of the greatest importance to the people have been passed under his guiding hand and steadfast purpose to accomplish all that he undertakes. A vote for Griffin is one to assist in keeping the state in the republican column."

This sudden change can be accounted for only on two suppositions—that Griffin has coerced the Commercial into support, or that he has flopped clear over and proposes being an anti-pipe liner hereafter. Those who know Mr. Boyle know that neither Griffin nor any other person can coerce him, he isn't built that way; hence the first supposition falls. That the second query is true is very likely, and Mr. Griffin will have a lively time squaring himself with his constituents. The Commercial has had good reason, heretofore, to oppose Mr. Griffin, and would not give him such a complete endorsement and vindication now except for mighty good cause, in which politics undoubtedly cuts the least figure.

TIN, TIN, AMERICAN TIN.

Right here in Toledo, and in, or rather on, our magnificent new Bee building, is the best practical illustration of the fudge of the republican talk about American made tin.

Our roof is tin, American tin, made in Philadelphia, and made before the McKinley law took effect. It is as good roofing tin as can be made, but roofing tin is not tin plate by a long shot, as any dealer will testify.

Now, this roofing tin was made without the help of the McKinley law, made before the embargo was laid on Welsh tin ore, made of American iron, American lead and Welsh tin. If American genius could direct the manufacture of this terne plate, without a tariff tax to help it, why put on the tax to be added to the schedule price, to be paid by the consumer, and to be pocketed by the manufacturers who lobbied the steal through congress? If terne plate or tin plate could be made without a tariff what need of a tariff tax at all, except to build up another lot of class-men at the expense of the common country?

The tin on the Bee building proves that they could make it as well before July as since, and proves that whatever benefit there now is in the manufacture, is entirely for the benefit of the manufacturer, and at the expense of the consumer.

There is not a sheet of American tin plate in this country to-day that can be used for canning purposes. The whole thing is a delusion and a snare and no person knows this better than Major McKinley. But it is true that the McKinley tariff has advanced the price of all kinds of tin, including terne plate, or roofing tin, and the owners of iron and lead are reaping the profits.

And republican speakers and republican organs help along the steal by praising the tin schedule of the McKinley monstrosity.

HAVE MONEY ENOUGH.

D. A. 72 Will Furnish the Funds for the G. A. Meeting—The Sunday Question.

The business of D. A. 72 session was finished at a late hour yesterday afternoon, the last discussion being upon the entertainment of the general assembly, K. of L., during the international convention here next month. Preparations are already begun for a grand ball at Pythian castle on the evening of November 11, when General Master Workman Powderly will lead the grand march. Some suitable place for a public reception will be secured, and representatives of the city, with clergymen and other prominent citizens will be asked to welcome the delegates. The other details of arrangements are left in the hands of the district executive board, and they will arrange for lectures by representative speakers of the order in Toledo and the vicinity. As the knights have a good treasury it was decided no appeal for funds should be made to the public, but all expenses should be paid by the district.

The resolution adopted at the morning session demanding that the world's fair exhibits be open for the benefit of working men and their families on Sundays, was again brought up, and by unanimous resolution the delegates to the general assembly was instructed to bring the same before that body for action and indorsement.

The meeting of D. A. 72 was one of the most harmonious and enthusiastic ever held, and the plan of work laid out for the winter is an aggressive one.

NO TROUBLE IN SAMOA.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—United States Consul Sewell, of Samoa, arrived on Tuesday night on board the steamship Oceanic, and left last night for the east. He reports no trouble at Samoa. The Oceanic brought 2,000 pounds of opium, the value of which is $40,000 and the import duty $24,000.

FIZZLE AND FIASCO.

McConica and Rorick Flim-Flammed at the Junction

By the Central Labor Union Quintette of Heelers.

Remarkable Manifestation of Disapproval of McKinley by Railroaders—The Meeting One of the Greatest Failures of the Campaign.

Fizzle does not begin to express it. The republican rally at Air Line Junction last evening was the concentrated essence of a farce and a fiasco.

Plenty of money, time, advertising and personal solicitation, and yet the good people of the Junction failed to respond.

The Central Labor union quintette, Fellows, Otis, Van Epps, Voit and Hancock have undertaken the task of turning over the labor vote of the city to the republicans.

To illustrate the work they have done, they invited Candidates Rorick and McConica to Air Line Junction where they had several thousand railroad men cornered for delivery on election day.

It was 7:30 last evening when a Bee reporter and a few friends boarded a Western avenue car for the Junction. In the car were Messrs. McConica, Rorick, J. K. Hamilton, Senator Fassett, Voit, Fellows of the glassworkers, Van Epps of the printers, Otis of the furniture makers. Hancock evidently got lost in the shuffle.

Hancock has 300 street car men's votes in his inside pocket, do you mind, and Fellows, Van Epps et al. wield an equally potent power over their respective unions.

His Honor J. K. looked and felt out of place and very uncomfortable, but the senator entertained the passengers with a few patriotic if partisan hymns, such as "We Are the People" and "We Are In It." The latter song was true, for they were in it and much deeper than ever anticipated.

Arriving at the Junction the crowd proceeded to the new K. of P. hall, which was resplendent with new lamps, new decoration and new but alas empty seats.

Breckenridge & Co. had struck off 1,000 tin badges—American tin imported from Wales—for this special occasion, but they were not needed.

There are evidently no republicans at Air Line Junction, or else they don't want to train with the crowd that went out to tell them something last night.

There were by actual count 38 people in the hall when the Bee got there half an hour after the proceedings had opened. There were, including the 16 who went out from the city on the car, 22 men, 13 women and 11 boys.

Lincoln Smith, he of the corner lot fame, was selected as chairman. Line is not a glaring success as a presiding officer. The beauty of his speech was its brevity. He can talk real estate, but he can't talk politics.

If a verbatim report of the remarkable scenes that followed were published readers would say the scribe was a Jules Verne romancer.

Mr. Hamilton proceeded to discuss the tariff, and Van Epps, of the printers, who had been working up the demonstration (?) for three straight days and nights, had to give some excuse for existing, so he went outside and actually began the "step right in" racket. He returned in a few minutes with four ladies and three little boys. Van was happy.

Mr. Hamilton said Americans could manage their own affairs without Gladstone sending over tracts and missionaries.

Mr. John Reed, a prominent citizen of the Junction, arose. "Mr. Speaker," he said, "may I ask you a question?"

"Why, certainly, a dozen of them."

"Well, then can you give me the name of one man who has had his wages raised by the McKinley bill?"

The question was indorsed by the audience with a cheer, and Mayor Hamilton looked appealingly at Line, but Line sat as stolid as a sphinx and never said a word.

"I cannot tell you I am sure—"

The balance of the mayor's explanation was drowned in a howl of derision that shook the shovels in the tool house two blocks away.

Then the circus opened. Poser after poser was fired at the speaker, but he evaded every question by saying the speaker following him would answer it.

Van Epps was out doing missionary work, and every five or ten minutes would come in with half a dozen or so of women and children.

The sentiments of the meeting were so decidedly opposed to the opinions of the speakers that the Bee in some amazement asked Alderman Mike Graham, who sat next him, what it all meant.

"Why, it simply means," he said, "that it is a democratic audience. There are not a dozen republicans in the hall."

Mr. Hamilton closed amid cries of derision and cheers for Campbell.

"I have now the pleasure of introducing to you," said Line, "Mr. Wm. Fellows, vice president of the Central Labor union."

Here was where the Central Labor union hustlers were to get in their work. But the boys were "onto the racket," and the fire of questions and cat calls continued.

Van Epps came in with another contingent of three women and a boy and the circus continued. The poser which Mr. Hamilton failed to answer relative to the individual who got that dollar on account of the McKinley bill was given Mr. Fellows, but he, too, failed to answer it.

Senator Fassett on rising to speak said he was prepared to answer any and all questions propounded.

The questions were fired in so fast that the senator became rattled and Postmaster Jefferson interceded.

"If you people don't want to listen then get out," he said, strutting threatingly towards one of the questioners.

"Get out yourself," came from a big railroader in the rear of the hall. Quiet or something approaching it was restored and the senator proceeded.

When he made the—well, remarkable statement that Rodger Q. Mills had advised his audience in Memorial hall to "throw up their jobs in order to let the product of English labor come into this country free," the audience rose en masse and yelled an emphatic denial.

"It's a lie, he never said so" and the speaker looked as if he would like to get on the platform.

Someone with a peculiar sneeze seemed to tickle the female portion of the audience and every sneeze brought forth a roar of laughter that shook the hall.

No audience ever enjoyed a minstrel show as did that gathering the farce on the platform.

In vain the chairman appealed for peace. He suggested that the questions were annoyingly unanswerable and asked that the inquisitive people leave the hall.

"Yes, and if they don't get out there is enough here to put them out."

Were there indeed.

The inflammatory threat was the signal for a renewal of the noise.

All through the farce McConica and Rorick sat like statues of stone on the rear of the platform.

About two-thirds of the people had risen to go and in the crush to get to the door there was some disturbance that looked much like a fistiouff.

"Come boys, let's all get out," shouted Dick Ford, as he made his way to the door.

Van Epps was on hand with another contingent of two women and two boys when the crowd reached the sidewalk.

During the row Chairman Smith made a personal appeal to the Bee.

"You can settle all this by just saying the word," he said.

Mr. Smith was mistaken. The Bee man knew but few of those present and the insinuation of one of the speakers that he (the Bee) was instrumental, directly or indirectly, in getting up the disturbance is a falsehood pure and simple.

The fact of the matter is it was a spontaneous outburst of the good people of the junction against boss rule and McKinleyism.

The ladies had in the meantime made their escape through a rear exit and Senator Fassett continued to the half dozen who remained. He denounced the attempt to break up the meeting and said he was personally acquainted with the instigators.

Just what Rorick and McConica said to the few who remained is not known to the scribe but it was brief.

After the crowd departed there were actually more people on the platform than there were in the body of the hall.

Notes.

Blossom was on deck.

Mike Graham took it all in but said nothing.

The Junction is ripe for a big democratic rally.

Dick Ford was there and he is handy on a hustle. Dick's all right.

Breckenridge & Co. got out 1,000 badges badges expressly for the occasion.

Fitzgerald's sneeze paralyzed the ladies and resulted in breaking up the meeting.

Otis said to a friend yesterday that he couldn't afford to support Booth. How is that for a labor union man.

Voit exhibited some of Booth's tickets on the car going out but it was noticeable that he distributed none of them in the hall.

DISASTERS ON THE LAKE.

The Oscar Townsend Burned Off Sanilac.

The Conemaugh Sent to the Bottom While in Collision with the New York.

Port Huron, Oct. 22.—The steam barge Oscar Townsend was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon off Port Sanilac. The fire originated from the explosion of a lamp, and spread so rapidly that despite every effort of the crew it could not be checked.

The tug Mystic took off the crew and brought them to this port.

The Townsend was lightbound for Escanaba. The Townsend was owned by J. Root, of Tecumseh, Mich., valued at $40,000 and insured for $25,000.

The towbarge Lyman Casey was run into here yesterday by the steambarge John Pringle and considerably damaged. She was struck just aft the main rigging, breaking rail, covering board stanchions and planking. Repairs will be made here.

Steamer Conemaugh Sunk.

Detroit, Oct. 2.—At 7:30 last night the Anchor line steamer Conemaugh and the New York of the Union line came into collision in Detroit river, a short distance below Smith's coal dock, resulting in the sinking of the Conemaugh in a few minutes.

She lies close up to the bank on the Canada side, with the top of her cabin just above water.

The cause of the disaster was probably due to misunderstanding of signals. At the time they were passing the steam barge Burlington with four barges in tow was rounding to at Smith's dock. She exchanged two whistles with the Conemaugh, which starboarded so as to pass astern of the tow. The New York was coming up just below, and the boats came together astern of the Burlington's tow with terrible force.

The Conemaugh had 1,850 tons of flour and other package freight, and was bound from Chicago to Buffalo.

She is a modern steamer built at Bay City in 1880, and was valued at $80,000. She can be raised, but it will be expensive work. The New York is but little damaged and will proceed to Chicago.

MASONS IN SESSION.

The Grand Lodge of Ohio Meets in Columbus.

The Eighty-Second Annual Session Was Largely Attended and Proved Unusually Interesting.

Columbus, Oct. 22.—The eighty-second convocation of the grand lodge of Ohio, F. and A. M., convened here yesterday, with all the grand officers present.

The visitors and delegates were welcomed to the city by Dr. D. N. Kinsman on behalf of the local lodges.

The report of the grand secretary showed the total number of members remaining enrolled at the time of the last report as 34,840, number omitted from last report 9, number raised during the year 1,072, affiliated 659, reinstated 946; total gain 3,577. Losses during the year through death, etc., 448; withdrawn 856, suspended for non-payment of dues 1,411, for un-Masonic conduct 92, expelled 17; total loss 2,823—leaving a net gain of 762, with the present number on the rolls of 35,652. Four new lodges were organized under dispensation during the year. The total receipts for the year, including the balance on hand at the beginning of the term were $36,020.80, expenditures $14,770.01; leaving a balance of $21,250.79.

Last night the delegates were given an entertainment and the Veterans' association, including all who have been Masons for 20 years, were entertained at the banquet.

WAS AN EXPENSIVE SLAP.

Dr. Prowe Sues the Salvadorian Government.

New York, Oct. 22.—A special to the Herald from San Salvador says Dr. Herman Prowe, a well known and highly esteemed German physician, who was presented by the government with a gold medal for his distinguished services during the late war, has put in a claim against Salvador for 500,000 pesos for indignities to which he was publicly subjected.

He states that General Ruiz Pastor, a Spaniard in the Salvadorian service, slapped his face in a hotel while Pastor's three adjutants and four policemen held him so that he could not defend himself. He also demands that the general be dismissed from the army.

FILL UP THE COAL BIN.

Natural Gas Very Weak at Lima.

The Factories Cut Off and the People Warned to Keep a Little Fuel on the Side.

Lima, O., Oct. 22.—(Special)—The Lima Natural Gas company to-day notified all factories and shops supplied from its lines that after November 1 natural gas would be furnished for domestic uses only.

S. A. Baxter, president of the company, says this step is rendered necessary by a decrease in pressure from 340 pounds to 125 pounds.

Private consumers are also warned to prepare for emergencies and lay in a stock of coal or wood.

ANNA TAKES THE FIELD.

What Miss Anna Parnell Thinks About Irish Affairs.

London, Oct. 22.—Miss Anna Parnell, sister of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, writes a letter to the press, in which she expresses her disbelief in the sincerity of Liberalist professions of a desire to secure autonomy for Ireland. Miss Parnell declares that ever since the perpetration of the Phoenix Park murders she has been frightened at the tendency among a certain class of Irish politicians to adopt an attitude of servility toward England, and to contribute to the monstrous growth of the Gladstone boom.

OCEAN MARINE.

London, Oct. 22.—The White Star steamer Germanic, from New York, Oct. 13, arrived at Queenstown this morning. Her officers report that they did not see the steamship Wisconsin of the Guion line, which left New York October 11, for Liverpool.

New York, Oct. 22.—Arrived—Lahn from Bremen; City of New York from Liverpool; Niagara from Havana; Nevada from Liverpool.

John M. Wheton, of Wakeman, has been nominated for state senator by the prohibitionists.

PHENOMENAL RESULTS

Follow an Earthquake Shock in California.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—The recent earthquake in central and northern California occasioned phenomenal results in Sonoma county.

On the Polpulo ranch of J. E. Peppe the ground was cracked and seamed in various places. From these narrow openings in the earth large quantities of water of various temperatures have been gushing forth ever since.

In some places the water is ice cold, while in others it is warm, reaching a temperature of 100 degrees. The flow of Gen. Valejos' artesian well has been increased about 100,000 gallons per 24 hours. On Capt. Joys' farm the flow of gas from his natural gas well has been increased to a great extent and a spring that has hitherto been cold has been converted into a basin of hot water.

STREET CAR TROUBLES.

Conductors Taken Off of the Dorr Street Line.

The People Making a Big Kick and Inaugurate a Novel Fight—The Union to Take Action in the Matter.

The people along Dorr street are having lots of fun with the Consolidated Street Railway company and are liable to give that company considerable trouble before they get through. During the past season there have been conductors on the cars of this line but last week they were all taken off. The people who patronize the road seriously object to this and have started a novel fight to compel the company to return the conductors. It has been mutually agreed not to put any fares in the box and thus the driver is compelled to leave his horses and collect fares. The trouble this makes is illustrated by the trip of one car last evening. There were 34 passengers on this car and of this number only six put their fares in the box, the rest remaining in their seats and compeling the driver to collect their nickels. The same performance is being continued to-day and the people say that they will continue to make the drivers collect the fares until the conductors are returned.

The Consolidated gives evidence that it intends to also fight, for the drivers have received special orders to collect all fares.

Another phase of this trouble affects the men working on the road and is likely to be more serious in its consequences to the road. The conductors on the Dorr street line, were discharged yesterday morning and the union will probably take up their case. The union takes this action on the part of the Consolidated as a direct blow at the organization, and fear that if this matter is allowed to pass, more conductors will be discharged until the union is weakened, and then the company may take more radical steps. The union leaders claim that the Consolidated, within the past few months, has been putting on an unusual and unnecessary number of extra men, both on the electric and horse car lines. These "extras" learn the business and then work when any regular man lays off for a while. The company now has a great many more "extras" than there is need of, and many of them do not get enough work to live on. It is for this reason that the Dorr street conductors were discharged when taken off of that line. If there had not been so many extras these conductors could have worked extra on the other lines.

The union men have their eyes open to any game that may be attempted and are prepared to take retaliatory measures, and while a strike may not be precipitated, the union will make an effort to have the discharged men reinstated.

The people out Dorr street are also circulating a petition to have the conductors returned.

CARGO OF TEA LOST.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—J. W. Doane & Co., importers, have received the intelligence from their New York correspondents that the sailing ship Hecla, which left Japan September 15, is lost. The vessel was bound for San Francisco and had a cargo of general merchandise weighing 2,800,000 pounds, inclusive of 1,750,000 of tea which was consigned to American merchants.

Another Disastrous Wreck on the B. & O.

Two Persons Killed and Several More Badly Injured—A Most Complete Wreck.

Pittsburg, Oct. 22.—A frightful wreck occurred on the B. & O. railroad near St. John's station, 40 miles east of Cumberland, Md., yesterday afternoon, resulting in the instant killing of two persons and the injury of four others, three of whom will die.

The Dead.

James Knuckles, engineer, married.
Rodney Richards, fireman, married.

The injured are as follows:

W. H. Lippincott, postal clerk, Grafton, W. Va., injured about the head; will die.

H. Silvey, postal clerk, Martinsburg, W. Va., injured internally; will die.

Charles Craig, Cumberland, postal clerk, injured internally; will die.

J. McDonald, passenger, Baltimore, crushed and bruised; serious, but will recover.

The accident was caused by the spreading of the rails. The train, which was No. 6, was running at the rate of 50 miles an hour when suddenly the engine jumped the track and was followed by the baggage car, smoker, passenger coach and two sleepers.

The train ran along the ties for a distance of 200 yards, tearing up the ties and then overturned.

It was a complete wreck, and the only wonder is that more were not hurt. The tracks were blocked for many hours and all trains were delayed. The loss to the railroad will be heavy.

SUICIDE IN AN ASYLUM.

Horrible Death of a Well-Known New Yorker.

He Was Left Unattended and Leaped Into a Bath Tub Filled with Boiling Water.

New York, Oct. 22.—The Recorder this morning says that Isaac Wm. Lore, 43 years old, formerly a broker and a member of the Seventh regiment, met a horrible death at the Bloomingdale asylum last Saturday.

It is alleged that Mr. Lore, during the temporary absence of his attendant, plunged into a bath tub filled with boiling water and received injuries which caused his death.

The asylum authorities, with the aid of the coroner, tried to keep the matter secret, even failing to inform the dead man's family of the cause of death.

ANYTHING, O LORD, ANYTHING,

So Long as We Have a Crowd—Cry of the Foraker Boomers.

The republicans are using unparalleled and strenuous efforts to have a crowd at Memorial hall to-night. They must be hard pressed when they send a written invitation to such loyal democrats as Mr. John Pixey, of 629 Canal avenue, to act as one of the vice presidents.

The democrats are nothing if not magnanimous to a beaten foe, and Mr. Pixey and other democrats who have received similar invitations will undoubtedly be on hand, and possibly they will not.

Maybe they want us to give them a chairman. They can have Byron Ritchie, Louis Richardson or a choice of 100 others, who will give an appropriate introduction from a democratic standpoint.

THE VAN BUREN MUDDLE.

Suit for Damages and Injunction Against Toledo.

The sheriff to-day served notice on the gas trustees of an action for damages and injunction, filed against that body and the City of Toledo, in the common plase court of Hancock county, by the village of Van Buren, plaintiff.

This is but another step in a long existing contention between the gas trustees and that corporation over gas territory. The city owns some territory adjoining the town, and about a year ago drilled in a gusher.

Soon after the council of Van Buren passed an ordinance prohibiting the construction of a gas pipe line within 150 feet of a building. That shut Toledo out completely, as it would be impossible to pipe the gas through Van Buren without laying the line within 150 feet of a building. The city solicitor gave it as his opinion that the ordinance would not hold and the pipe was laid. When the trench was constructed to the point near a building the authorities arrested the workmen, and made effort to prevent and delay further progress of the line. An injunction was then obtained by Toledo restraining Van Buren from interfering in any way with the construction of the pipe line.

To bring this gas into Toledo, it is necessary to lay a pipe line through the town, and cross two streets. The object of the injunction is to restrain the conveyance of gas through the pipe under the streets of the town.

"YOU ARE SO YOUNG TO SUFFER!"

This occurrence is frequent. Young girls in public schools where great rivalry exists often try to accomplish too much, and soon discover that their delicate organizations are unequal to the mental strain. Then the ambitious child is taken from school—"to rest"—in disappointment.

This is wrong. The ambitions of a child should be aided, not blasted. Thoughtful, intelligent mothers know what to do. Thousands of bright eyed, rosy cheeked, energetic and lovable school girls regard Mrs. Pinkham as their mainstay. They are right.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH

Something You Never Thought Of.

When a criminal is condemned to death it is announced with great headlines and community shudders. Yet each moment a person is condemned to permanently die by some neglected disease.

Clerks find themselves thin, pale and losing their former strength and steady nerve! Mechanics lose time from their work, suffering from malaria, kidney or liver disease, stomach or nerve trouble! Business men wake tired-languid after sleepless nights, with dull head, unsteady nerves, brain and nervous system in weak and irritable condition! Women are weak, tired and dragged out, with shattered nerves and exhausted vitality!

All these cases are curable if taken in time. Use Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve, stomach and blood remedy, and restore your health and avert the doom of death. It has saved the lives of more sufferers than any other remedy, and will save your health and life if you use it now. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists sell it, $1.00.

THE FORSAKEN FARMHOUSE.

Against the wooded hills it stands,
Ghost of a dead home, staring through
Its broken light on wasted lands
Where old-time harvests grew.

Unplowed, unsowed, by scythe unshorn,
The poor forsaken farm fields lie,
Once rich and rife with golden corn
And pale green breadths of rye.

Of healthful herb and flower bereft,
The garden plot no housewife keeps;
Through weeds and tangles only left
The snake, its tenant, creeps.

A lilac spray, once blossom-clad
Sways bare before the empty rooms,
Beside the roofless porch a sad,
Pathetic red rose blooms.

His track in mould and dust and drouth,
On floor and hearth the squirrel leaves,
And in the fireless chimney's mouth
His web the spider weaves.

The leaning barn about to fall
Resounds no more on husking eves;
No cattle low in yard or stall,
No thresher beats his sheaves.

So sad, so drear! It seems almost
Some haunting presence makes its sign;
That down yon shadowy lane some ghost
Might drive his spectral kine!
—John G. Whittier.

BARDSLEY'S LIPS SEALED

He Stubbornly Refuses to Say a Word to the Senate.

He Poses as a Martyr and Pleads His Own Case.

Claims He Never Criminally Took a Dollar and Says that Time Will Right All the Wrong Being Done to Him.

Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—"I have already said in open court that my lips are sealed, and there is no power upon earth that can open them. All talk about 'bargains' is the sheerest nonsense. I have suffered as no man could expect to suffer, and my undoing has been the work of those in whom I placed implicit confidence; perhaps they can appreciate my torture."

The speaker was convict 5944, known to the world as John Bardsley. He sat on his cell cot in the Eastern Penitentiary, and with clinched hands and sparkling eyes thus talked to a friend.

Bardsley has aged perceptibly since Judge Wilson passed the sentence which virtually ended his life. He has gained in flesh, but confinement is gradually removing the color of health, and those who saw him during the few hours he spent recently in court would be surprised at the change which has taken place in such a short space of time.

The printed stories of a bargain with some unnamed persons, by which he was to appear before the senate and give in detail the history of his transactions, both public and private, while in the treasurer's office, Bardsley denounced as utterly false.

"Have they not had a multiplicity of trained experts on all those transactions? Have they not forcibly entered my home, rifled my drawers, stolen my papers and examined and cross-examined those with whom I had the most intimate business transactions?

"Have not their chief experts in open court testified, under oath, that not a penny had been traced to my possession to which I was not legally entitled? Have not state officials so modified their absurd claims against me that they are now acknowledged to be insignificant and on a fair way to entire dissolution? Have not these same experts, who so glibly told the court of enormous missing sums and as flippantly put them to me, reported to Mr. Van Osten's committee that my statement that the money for which I held clearing house due bill's was actually deposited in the Keystone bank?

"In the face of all this, what bargain could I enter into? Time rights all things, and the public, which has been studiously taught to consider me as the head devil of a gigantic conspiracy, will see that no criminal intent ever tinged any act of mine, either public or private."

Mr. Bardsley was told of a publication in a New York paper which circumstantially related a bargain by which his family was to be amply provided for and himself well repaid in consideration of his continued silence.

"Such absurdities are not worth contradicting," he said. "In God's name, why can't these inhuman scribblers leave my family alone? When this trouble came upon me I owed but $73,000 and had $500,000 to pay it with. My misfortune was that I could not get hold of what belonged to me."

THE THEATER.

Donnelly and Girard in Natural Gas To-night.

Announcement of Miss Gale's Engagement—Ullie Akerstrom at the People's Next Week.

Donnelly and Girard and their clever company will appear in H. Grattan Donnelly's Natural Gas at Wheeler's Opera house to-night. This company is one of the most popular of the numerous farce comedies.

Every year, too, Natural Gas undergoes a change and always comes out brighter and funnier. With this in view, Manager Samuel P. Cox has this year put his finest touches on the play, and it never was better than it is to-day. The company is entirely new.

Miss Gale Next Week.

Miss Gale, who for a long time was leading lady for Booth and Barrett is announced to appear at Wheeler's next Wednesday evening as Rosalind in As Like It. Miss Gale is making a success as a star this season and has surrounded herself with a strong company including Mr. Creston Clarke.

Duff Opera Company.

To-morrow and Saturday evening, with Saturday matinee, the popular Duff Opera company will appear at Wheeler's in the Queen's Mate and Paola. The former will be produced to-morrow evening and Saturday matinee, and Paola will be produced Saturday evening.

Ullie Akerstrom.

Ullie Akerstrom, who played such a successful week at the People's last season, will be seen there next week in a repertoire of new plays. Monday and Tuesday will be produced A Little Busybody, Wednesday and Thursday, Renah, the Gypsie's Daughter, and Friday and Saturday, Annette, the Dancing Girl.

Miss Akerstrom has a good company and will also bring plenty of fine special scenery.

Renah, the Gypsie's Daughter, is a domestic drama, said to be equally as attractive and pleasing as Annette, the Dancing Girl. Incidental to its production the ever-popular dances which have made Ullie Akerstrom a favorite in the eastern states are given. Aside from her skill as a dancer, Miss Akerstrom is a thoroughly capable actress.

Notes.

"Two Old Cronies" are drawing crowds at the People's this week.

Miss Julia Marlowe, in "Cymbeline" and "Ingomar," will be the attraction at Wheeler's next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

REST AND HEALTH TO MOTHER AND CHILD.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

Pittsburg, Oct. 22.—Miss Margaret Hoffman has brought suit against Harry Barnhart for $25,000 for breach of promise of marriage. She is 23 years of age; met Barnhart at Braddock in 1889; was engaged to be married to him in November, 1889, but he has refused to keep his promise. She thinks $25,000 will heal the injury.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Dr. Franklin B. Clarke, a well-known specialist, whose office is at 186 South Clark street, killed himself by asphyxiation. On the dead man's person was found a large amount of jewelry and some money, but no note or missive explaining the cause of his deed. Dr. Clarke was a man about 60 years of age.

WHO WAS AT FAULT?

Washington, Oct. 22.—Secretary Tracy has appointed the following officers as a court of inquiry to meet in Washington, Monday, Oct. 26, to determine the responsibility for the wreck of the United States steamer Dispatch: Captain Montgomery Card, president; Commander Willard H. Brownson, Lieut. Commander James H. Dayton and Lieut. Nathaniel R. Usher, recorder.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY

Acted Upon by the Council Judiciary Committee Last Evening.

The council committee on judiciary met last evening and transacted a large amount of business. Several important matters were before them and innumerable smaller claims were acted upon.

Attorney Thurstin appeared before the committee, representing Mrs. Dr. J. V. Newton, and made a claim on behalf of his clients for $500 damages for personal injuries sustained by Mrs. Newton and her two daughters by being thrown from a buggy. On August 22 a horse, being driven by Mrs. Newton, became frightened at a steam roller standing on Collingwood avenue and ran away, throwing Mrs. Newton and her two daughters to the ground. The claim was referred to Messrs. Morganthaler, Hartford & Morgan for investigation.

The committee took up the case of Edward Williams, who is suing the city in common pleas court for $5,000 damages for injuries sustained by falling on a defective sidewalk on Summit street some time ago. The committee had rejected this claim once, before it was taken to court, but last night the solicitor was directed to confess judgment in the sum of $1,500.

The matter of the westerly 33 feet of Fifteenth street for which Mrs. Mary J. Cummings asks $1,472.38, if the street is opened up, was laid on the table.

The bill of Kind, Augsbach & Co., for $300 rent for the property on St. Clair street between the creek and the canal, was referred to Mr. Morganthaler.

A number of minor claims were acted upon or referred to sub-committees for investigation.

POLICE BOARD.

Trifling Charges Against Two Patrolmen.

They Had Evidence of Spite Work and Were Dismissed—Moses Powder's Resignation Accepted.

The board of police commissioners met last evening with all members present except Mr. Potter. The session was rather lengthy, but little business of importance was transacted.

Health Officer Fisher reported that the mortality for the past month had been low During the month there were 30 cases of diphtheria, four of which resulted fatally, ten recovered and 16 are still under treatment. There were five cases of scarlet fever, one of which recovered, leaving four still under treatment.

Mr. Kruse asked the doctor if he did not think it was necessary to take the two sanitary policemen off of Summit street, where they have been stationed at the street car transfer offices for some time past.

The doctor stated that he did as the men were needed at the sanitary work.

The board then passed a resolution directing the doctor to take the men off of Summit street.

The resignation of Patrolman Moses Powder was presented to the board by Clerk Berney, who stated that charges had also been filed against him.

The resignation was accepted without having the charges read.

A petition was read from R. S. Blanchard, superintendent of construction of the city gas plant, asking that their night watchman, Allen Simmons, be given special police powers. The request was granted.

A petition from Forest Fordham, special detective of the T. & O. C. railway, was presented asking to be placed on the police pay roll. The matter was laid over to the next meeting.

The case against Patrolman John Seigel was taken up. Martin Zick charged that several weeks ago on Sunday Seigel stopped him on the street and searched his basket and used bad language toward him.

Seigel stated that he was watching a saloon at the time and seeing Zick come out he stopped him to see if he had beer, as the officer wanted to make a case against the saloon keeper for selling on Sunday. He claimed that he found a pail of beer in Zick's basket, covered with cabbage.

Mr. Kruse wanted to know if an officer had a right to stop a man on the highway and search him without arresting him.

This was referred to Judge Sala, who was present, and he stated that an officer did not have authority to do that. If he wanted a man for a witness he should send him to the station.

After a short discussion the officer was let off with a reprimand.

The case against Officer Van Buskirk, charged with using indecent language toward Mrs. William Boyd and for drinking in Boyd's saloon on St. Clair street, was taken up.

Boyd and his wife testified against the officer, but the latter produced numerous witnesses against them and claimed that the charges were made against him by Boyd to get even for having been arrested and fined for disturbance.

After hearing considerable testimony the charges against Van Buskirk were dismissed.

George A. Dougherty was appointed on the force to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Moses Powder.

STRANGE CASE IN COURT.

Interesting Facts Relative to a Suit Now Pending in Lucas County.

In the common pleas court Murray Nelson, of Chicago, has, by his attorneys, Brown & Geddes, brought against the county treasurer and auditor an action involving some unusual and interesting questions. In his petition the plaintiff alleges the following facts: Upon the 1878 and previous tax duplicate there is charged against property which includes certain land belonging to plaintiff, taxes for the years 1875-8 amounting to $341.21. In 1883, in an action brought by the then county treasurer, a decree was rendered for said sum and interest from October 1, 1883, but no person then having any title to or interest in the property was defendant in said action. In 1886 an action was brought to foreclose a mortgage of said land and the then county treasurer was made defendant thereto and filed a cross petition setting up certain taxes on said land, but not the taxes now claimed to be a lien thereon. The taxes so set up were decreed to be a lien, the amounts and priorities of the liens determined, and the property ordered sold for payment. Under said decree the land was sold by the sheriff and bought in by the plaintiff, Mr. Nelson, for an amount which after paying all costs, taxes in decree and subsequently accrued, and the amount of plaintiff's lien, left a surplus of $324.13, which was applied upon a subsequent lien. This $324.13 was more than sufficient to pay so much of said $341.21 taxes, if any, as could be charged against plaintiff's land, and had any claim for such taxes been asserted in the foreclosure sale, the same, if found valid, have been fully satisfied from the surplus proceeds realized upon the sale, without loss to plaintiff. And plaintiff claims that the treasurer is now estopped to claim any lien upon his land for said taxes, and asks an injunction.

The defendants maintain that the lien of the state for taxes is of such high character that it cannot be lost or impaired by any acts, errors or omissions of its officials. The plaintiff, on the other hand, claims that the state, by its official, the county treasurer, was a party to the foreclosure suit, and that when it became such party it waived the exemption which it might have claimed from legal proceedings, and stood on the same footing with private individuals, and is equally concluded by the judgment.

HON. HARLOW CHAPIN.

An Early Investor in Toledo Real Estate is Dead.

Brief Sketch of the Life of the Enterprising Pioneer—He Builded Better Than He Knew.

Hon. Harlow Chapin, of Marietta, who died suddenly on the 27th ult., aged 87, was well known to older residents of Toledo. Born in Massachusetts, he had resided in Ohio since 1816. In 1827 he taught the first school established in Massillon. He was engaged as an engineer in the construction of the Ohio canal and as superintendent of a section thereof from 1829 to 1834. Subsequently he superintended the enlargement of the Licking reservoir and the construction of dams and locks at the mouth of the Muskingum. He was one of the Argonants of '49, and remained in California for two years. He was a member of the electoral college of Ohio in 1854 and cast his vote for Henry Clay. He was also a member of the constitutional convention in 1873. He had resided in Marietta since 1837, and was president of the Citizens' National bank from its organization until his death.

In 1854 Mr. Chapin and Mr. Henry Fearing determined to purchase some lands and to hold the same as investments for their children. After a trip which included Chicago, Detroit and other places, they decided to buy at and near Toledo, and did purchase the property now platted as Chapin & Fearing's addition, an undivided seven-eighths of the 20 acres bounded by Franklin avenue and Bancroft, Warren and Machen streets, a quarter section near Air Line Junction (a part of which has been sold and platted as Lincoln Smith's addition) and a large tract near Milbury. With only occasional exceptions they adhered to their original purpose of keeping the land for their children, and declined to make sales.

Mr. Chapin never showed any of the infirmities of age. He was active in business and a constant hard worker until the end, leaving the bank only the day preceding his death. His perception was very quick and accurate, and he was throughout his whole life the ideal of a business man and a good citizen.

He left a will devising all property to his five children, Arthur B. Chapin, of Duluth, Minn.; Henry E. Chapin, of Bay City, Mich.; Sarah E. Collier, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Cornelia M. Crawford and Leander R. Chapin, of Marietta, the two first mentioned being appointed executors.

His associate, Mr. Henry Fearing, at 92 years of age is in perfect health and with his faculties wholly unimpaired, and appears likely to enjoy life for many years.

MOST PEOPLE

Know only a comparatively few things thoroughly—all else is more or less uncertain.

Take your own case. What do you know about CARPETS, for instance? Are you competent to detect poor materials, or imperfect weaving, or unreliable colorings, or old-style patterns?

No.

Then will it not be wisdom on your part to make your purchases of CARPETS where all these points are taken care of in your interest, and where you are protected, not only from direct misrepresentation, but from the results of your own inexperience?

That seems plain enough.

Just two things we promise every customer. They are these:

That every salesman shall tell the whole truth about every piece of goods offered for sale; that anything which proves imperfect, through the appearance of any hidden defect subsequent to purchase, shall be made right.

The name of our firm stands behind these two guaranteeing.

Very likely you are thinking of purchasing one or more CARPETS shortly. If so, consider what we have said.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Ohio.

TAXATION.

SECTION 1. Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1892, to amend section 2, of Article XII, of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

SECTION 2. Laws may be passed which shall tax in a uniform rule all moneys, credits, investments in bonds, stocks, joint-stock companies, or otherwise; and all real and personal property according to the true value thereof in money. In addition thereto, laws may be passed taxing rights, privileges, franchises and such other subject matters as the legislature may direct; but burying grounds, public school houses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public property used exclusively for any public purpose, and other property, may, by general laws, be exempted from taxation, and the value of all property so exempted shall, from time to time, be ascertained and published as may be directed by law.

SECTION 3. At such election, those electors desiring to vote for such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words "Taxation Amendment—Yes," and those opposed to such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words "Taxation Amendment—No."

SECTION 3. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January, 1892.

NIAL R HYSELL,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
WM. VANCE MARQUIS,
President of the Senate.

Movements in the Real Estate World.

Auburndale Annexation—Toledo Suburbs—Houses for the Workingmen—Miscellaneous Mention.

Real estate this week is steady all around. There has been no great movement, but at the same time real estate dealers do not complain of the sales made. There is much outside interest manifest in Toledo real estate, and quite a number of strangers were in the city looking up property with a view of investment. Aside from this a great many sales were made. They consisted mostly of small property for immediate use.

These sales, however small, are of infinite value to the growth and improvement of Toledo.

A short time before and just after real estate began to move last spring over a dozen new additions were platted and placed on the market, which involved a hundred acres of land or more. Since that time that number has more than doubled.

This is evidence of the great growth of Toledo. Demand creates supply, and this property would never have been platted and put on the market was then no prospect of a movement.

Real estate dealers are unanimous in the statement that there has been more small property disposed of this season than any time in the history of Toledo real estate in 10 years, and the records will confirm the fact.

These hundreds of lots must have been sold to some one and for a purpose. The records show very few blocks transferred.

A drive through the suburbs in any direction from the city will explain it all in a most satisfactory manner.

Drive down any street that fancy may suggest, and notice the new houses, cosy cottages, comfortable dwellings and stately and magnificent suburban residences, of the architect's most advanced design. The drive may continue mile after mile over the city, and the same wonderful growth and improvement will be noted. It is not confined to any one locality or neighborhood, but extends over the whole territory incorporated within the limits of Toledo. In a great many places new houses have been constructed by the row.

Then if possible be in one of these localities after the 6 o'clock whistles blow and learn who occupy these new houses. You will see dozens of workingmen, men who depend upon their physical power to maintain them and their families, but who have steady employment and sober, industrious habits.

These are the men, dinner bucket in hand, dust-begrimed and tired from their day of toil, who will swing the front gate of these many new houses, and with a light and elastic step enter the threshhold of a happy home, and all his own, as the precious deed secreted safely away will testify.

Arlington Still Moving.

The special sale of lots at Arlington addition, which has been conducted so successfully by Irving B. Hiett & Co. for some time, continues. The demand is not so great as at first, but the sale all through far exceeded the expectations of Mr. Hiett and the boys at the office. They all made a guess of the first day's sale and when the day closed and results figured up Mr. Hiett was the nearest to the exact number, and he was over twenty lots short.

Since the sale first opened over 100 lots have been sold, and there are about 100 left, which, it is expected, will be disposed of before the last of the present month.

The reward for the new houses is being contested for by Clark Hill, Caroline Herrmann, Herman Schmidt, T. C. Posthong. Houses are being erected in Arlington by Barbara Rupp, Mrs. Caroline Schmidt and Thomas Talord.

Eighteen prize lots have been given away and one or two more will be given away this week, one sure, as 20 lots have been sold and 12 on another 20.

In conversation with a Bee Mr. Hiett said: "Arlington is going to be one of the most popular and thrifty suburbs of Toledo. Already one or two store buildings are under course of construction, and we are going to have a church and school house before long. A number of dwelling houses will be put up yet this fall, and by this time another year you won't recognize the place."

Annexation of Auburndale.

Auburndale is to be annexed to the city, and to cast its lot with the adversity and prosperity of the Future Great.

By this act the city legislature will add quite a vast stretch of territory to the corporation of Toledo. This property is valuable on account of the extensive and substantial manufacturing interests embraced within its limits, as well as many other splendid improvements.

The opinions of a number of prominent real estate dealers was solicited with regard to the benefits to be derived by annexation, as well as the effect the addition of more vacant property will have on the real estate market.

Ira A. Richardson—"I am of the opinion that the property involved will decrease in value. It is not brought any nearer the city than before and the rates of taxation will be considerably higher, while the owners will have no more privileges than before. I don't see that there will be any more demand for Auburndale property because it is a part of Toledo than when it was separated. Auburndale is improving and the property is ever increasing in value, but it is a question in my mind whether annexation will enhance the value or not. No, I don't believe the real estate market will be affected one way or the other by the change, for some time to come. At present there is plenty of property much nearer the city that can be bought as cheap if not cheaper than Auburndale property. However, if Toledo grows as she has in the last year or two, this property and other will be called into requisition."

J. H. Campbell: "Auburndale has had all the advantages and protection that Toledo maintains by taxation. Whenever it was necessary the fire department turned out and rendered service in Auburndale, at the expense of the city, which, if sifted to a fine point, was not proper. Yet it wouldn't seem right to refuse assistance in time of need. Then a policeman was always furnished at an expense to the city, and on a whole Auburndale should be annexed and help pay for her protection and privilege."

As to the effect annexation will have, I know of property just across the line, in Washington township, that can be purchased for $150 per acre, while the same land you might say, for it is only separated by an imaginary line, cannot be bought for less than $1,000 an acre.

"Then the rates of taxation will be increased but very little, for the next 10 years, when the next appraisement will be made. If the annexation had been made before the late appraisement was made, then there would be some difference, and the city would be reimbursed for the expenditure the new state of affairs will necessitate. A new school building will have to be erected, fire department increased, policemen furnished, all of which comes out of the city treasury.

"On the other hand, property owners and residents are benefited in more ways than one. I was speaking with one of the leading manufacturers of Auburndale the other day, and he claimed that the difference in rates of insurance would pay the difference in the rate of taxation. After Auburndale is annexed, property owners, both real and personal, in making application for insurance, will be classed under the head of 'city protection,' and a much lower rate of insurance can be obtained thereby."

Small Property Moving.

"There has been a good, healthy movement of small property all week," said Mr. George Pomeroy, of the firm of Pomeroy & Son, to a Bee, "and real estate business generally is exceedingly lively considering the bad weather we have been having all during October. Inquiry is good. We have had quite a few callers from surrounding towns in both Michigan and Ohio, who are looking up Toledo real estate, with a view of investment.

"We are just preparing to open up our Lagrange street addition. The property will be disposed of in a special manner, but we have not decided just how we will proceed. The city is growing wonderfully in that direction, and improvement is apparent everywhere. The construction of St. Hebredes church is a great benefit to that locality, and from the present outlook there is going to be no small amount of activity in that direction in the spring."

Toledo's Suburbs.

Toledo has no suburbs, to speak in the true meaning of the term," remarked Henry Cushing the other day. "The suburbs of the larger cities are located beyond the city limits, a great ways. Of course the growth of the city drives the residents further and further out, and the property appropriated for business purposes, at no small consideration either, you may believe. The merchants and laborer alike seek homes away from the turmoil and din of a busy city, for two reasons, first because it is cheaper and far more pleasant. Take Cincinnati or any of the larger cities and you will find the most fashionable and aristocratic homes located in the suburbs."

"Toledo is coming to this more and more every year. Slowly but surely the business portion of the city is spreading out and driving before it the residents who happen in the way. Then the business men and all fashionable people are awakening to the many advantages of living in the suburbs. Here a man of wealth may establish a home of magnificence and comfort that the crowded, limited city residents never dreamed of. He has use for his carriage. He has plenty of room to spread himself, speaking literally; in fact it is the only way to live, and the advantages are extended to the rich and poor alike.

"Toledo's suburbs are becoming more popular every year, and the man who buys suburban property and is discreet enough to hold on to it, he is the man who is going to make a stake. Toledo is growing, and the suburbs will be in demand just as sure as the sun rises and sets."

BROKE IN ON HIS PLEASURE.

A Gay Young Man Made to Pay His Bills.

Alexander Henriques Called Into Court—A Pretty Girl Served the Summons on Him.

New York, Oct. 22.—Alexander C. Henriques, the young son of "Billy" Henriques, the millionaire broker, is in the meshes of a legal tangle, which interfers with his honeymoon before it is in its first quarter.

Young Henriques married Bessie Booth, a Casino chorus girl. The marriage created no little talk in this city and Boston.

Mr. Henriques had been, until he became a benedict, one of the most regular habitues of the cafes noter for young patrons who affect absinthe, frappe and chorus girls, and are given to unlimited tailor and other bills.

Since his return from Montreal with his bride he has been passing the honeymoon at the Hotel Viano, in East Eighteenth street. Most of the time has been spent in dodging a summons issued by Judge O'Brien of the supreme court, commanding him to show cause why he should not appear and answer in a suit brought by Grant Squires of No. 41 Wall street, to collect a debt of $250 owing to a client of Squires'.

All efforts to serve the summons was in vain until an extremely pretty young woman employed in Mr. Squires' office took the matter in hand.

Her name happened to be the same as that of another young woman to whom Henriques had been devoted in his bachelor days, and when the pretty process server sent up that name to Henriques he appeared at once and was promptly served with the summons.

Henriques appeared before Judge O'Brien, when the case was adjourned to give him time to settle. The proceedings were brought because it was understood that Henriques was about to sail for Europe. Mr. Henriques denied that he was going to do anything of the kind, but he is making big preparations nevertheless. It is believed that the suit will be settled out of court, and unless Henriques attempts to leave the city the proceedings will hardly take a disagreeable turn. He has been estranged from his father since his marriage, and, it is said, he feels keenly the loss of the key to the parental vaults.

GOSSIP FROM FINDLAY.

Work on Findlay, Ft. Wayne and Western.

A Policeman Makes an Important Arrest—A Bride of a Month Deserted—Miscellaneous Mention.

Findlay, Oct. 22.—(Special)—Rev. B. T. Bolton, a well-known business man on the North Side, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. W. H. Gross has been named as the assignee. The statement has not yet been made public, although there is a number of preferred creditors. A bad investment in manufacturing is given as the cause.

Arrested.

Officer Plolts caught a man secreted away, pretending sleep, in the wholesale leather store of H. H. Frer, on West Crawford street, last night. His object, no doubt, was to crack the safe and rob the store during the night, but his little game was nipped in the bud. He was turned over to the police.

Pushing Westward.

Work on the extension of the Findlay, Ft. Wayne & Western road, from Hunstown, on the Clover Leaf, to Grover Hill, a distance of nine miles, is being rushed along vigorously. This new line, in connection with the Clover Leaf, is proving to be a very popular route out of the city for all points west. The most objective point is the city of Ft. Wayne, which will be reached next spring.

Released on Bail.

Winfield Ludwig, residing near Dunkirk, one of the men under arrest for stealing wheat from Jacob Yates, has been released from custody, having secured the required bail, $300. He will not be tried until the next term of court.

A Bride of a Month.

About a month ago an iron worker by the name of George Sterer married a young lady at Bluffton and brought her to this city to reside. All went merrily until his wife was taken seriously ill and he was compelled to stay away from work to care for her. He thus run deeply in debt but instead of trying to adjust matters he has deserted his bride of a month and left for pastures new, to the discomfiture of his many creditors. His wife was obliged to pawn her clothes to liquidate her board.

London, Oct. 22—Rev. Dr. Clutterbuck, government inspector of workhouse schools, is being sued for 1,000 pounds by Mrs. Turner, a widow of Bath who accuses him of inducing her to give that amount to him for investment in securities, using the name of Chancellor of the exchequer, Goschen, in his argument. Mr. Goschen denies that he ever endorsed the securities as stated by Clutterbuck. The prisoner has been remanded for trial.

BALMACEDA NOT ALIVE.

The Story that He Lives is Pure Fiction.

The South American People Who Were Quoted as the Authority Denounce the Yarn.

New York, Oct. 22.—Dr. Francis Rivers and Senor del Rio, who were credited in a dispatch sent out from Cincinnati with the statement that Balmaceda is still alive, has arrived in this city.

It appears that when the two gentlemen arrived they were in a great state of mind. They said that the story of Balmaceda being alive originated in Memphis, Tenn., and was largely the product of a reporter's imagination.

It seems that there was a gentleman in their party who resembled Balmaceda and that the reporter swooped down on this solitary fact and went to his office with it. Then he got to work and elaborated what Messrs. Rivers and Del Rio denounced as being entirely and absolutely untruthful.

Dr. Rivers said he was an Argentinian, as indeed he registered at the hotel, and Del Rio denied that he had ever been connected with the Chilian government in any way, shape or form. So did Dr. Rivers. They said that the story making them military attaches of Balmaceda was utterly without foundation. They unanimously vowed vengeance on all reporters and newspapers alike. This, at least, was the story they told the hotel clerk. That individual was careful not to vouch for the story, but he evidently believed it himself.

At the Chilian consulate not an opinion was ventured. The knowledge of the identity of Dr. Rivers and Senor Carl del Rio was denied.

FLORIDA ALLIANCE.

Officers Elected and Other Matters Discussed.

Dade City, Fla., Oct. 22.—The morning session of the state farmers' alliance was devoted chiefly to the reading of annual reports. President Rogers in his address said the Ocala platform did not contain a syllable that could not be endorsed by every true democrat.

One of the delegates to the meeting is Hon. Samuel Pasco, United States senator, who represents the alliance of his county. There will be a contest over his seat on the charge that he is not eligible to membership because he is a lawyer.

The committe on statistics then reported. The figures by this committee show what a great factor the carriage trade is in the business of the country.

The report of the committee on roads showed how interest in the matter of better highways had been awakened throughout the entire country and was already producing excellent results.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Frank H. Hooker, New Haven, Conn.; secretary and treasurer, H. C. McClear, Wilmington, Del.

This evening Music hall will be thrown open to the delegates and a grand organ recital and concert will be given for their entertainment.

City Auditor's Office.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 7, 1891.

THE COMMITEE ON WAYS AND MEANS of the Common Council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned invite sealed proposals at this office to

at 7 o'clock p m. for the purchase of general fund refunding bonds of the city of Toledo to the amount of ninety-two thousand (92,000) dollars, bearing date October 1, 1891, and payable ten (10) years after date at the Importers' and Traders' National bank, in the city of New York, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place, to be evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said bonds are issued under and by the authority of section 2701 of the revised statutes of Ohio and an ordinance of the common council of Toledo, passed September 28 A D 1891, which provides for issue of said bonds.

The denomination of these bonds $1,000.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the Bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the Bonds so bid for as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined and the award made according to law, all moneys or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the City Auditor subject to his call, except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered and accepted as part payment of the Bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the Bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the City of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the "Auditor of the City of Toledo, Ohio," and be indorsed "Proposals for General Fund Funding Bonds." WALKER, City Auditor.

But if you did not happen to be acquainted with the gentleman, do not be cast down. You perhaps know many things of a more practical nature which more than compensates. For instance, you know that you can have more happiness in a minute in a house of your own than in a week in a house you are paying rent for. You know that it is as much more economical as it is more comfortable, and that is saying a good deal. You know that in Toledo you can get a lot and build yourself a house in any part of the city and have the privilege of as much time as you wish in which to pay for it. You know that the new addition Webster Place!

The owners of this beautiful addition are anxious to convert a portion of their property into money, with which to make further improvements. We are ordered to sell a limited number of these lots at once. We realize that to do this we must name prices that are so low that customers will buy these lots in preference to anything else offered. We are prepared to do this and will sell a few of these lots at prices that will surprise the closest buyers, and on terms to suit you. Consider the improvements that have just been completed and are now being made. Stone sidewalks, sewerage, city water, Cherry street paved, Fulton street dedicated and graded, beautiful new homes. You will not have another opportunity to buy as choice property at so low a price, or so favorable terms as we are prepared to offer.

POMEROY'S LAGRANGE ADDITION!

THIS ADDITION—very centrally located—on Lagrange street, eleven minutes' ride from the postoffice by electric car. It has been held in an estate for many years and now is just platted to settle the same. It is as level as a floor and not a dollar is needed for grading.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD is excellent, being directly adjacent to the Protestant Orphans' Home and the new St. Hebard's Church. We offer lots at $300 00 each on terms to suit the purchaser, and will reserve the right to advance the price at any time. They will quickly double in value, and no better investment of savings can be made than in these lots.

TITLE is perfect and we furnish each buyer with an abstract. Lagrange street is paved and sewered and these lots derive all the benefits from these improvements. We shall be glad to show this property at any time and give further particulars. Plat can be found at our office.

FAMOUS WILL CASE ENDED

A Rich Old Man in an Eastern Town,

Discarded His Family for a Young Woman,

And the Courts Hold that His Lawful Family Have No Right to Any of His Property.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 22.—Chancellor McGill in the court of chancery rendered his opinion in the celebrated Hezekiah B. Smith will case admitting that document to probate.

The testator was a millionaire, established the town of Smithville, in Burlington county, was elected to congress in 1878 and served one term as a state senator.

The present decision is on an appeal from Burlington orphans' court, which reversed an order of the surogate made November 14, 1887, which admitted to probate as the last will of Smith, a paper dated August 4, 1886.

The will of Smith was contested on the ground that he was insane, as shown by his exclusion from his bounty of his legitimate children, and on the ground of undue influence by Miss Agnes Gilkerson, the other woman in the case.

The legal status of Eveline Verona Smith as the wife of Hezekiah B. Smith, says the chancellor, is fully established. In 1853, seven years after his marriage, he met Agnes Gilkerson at Lowell.

She was then a young girl of 16 who had come from a town in Vermont to find employment in the factories. A few months later this girl was living with him. Smith was infatuated with her and she used her power over him.

Smith sent the girl to school in Lowell, and in 1859 to Philadelphia, where she studied medicine for two years. Smith declared he loved the girl, and that he did not care who knew it.

In 1865 he took her to Smithville, in this state, where he built a large factory, and provided himself with a comfortable mansion, over which he installed Agnes as mistress. Here she was called Mrs. Smith, and was recognized as his lawful wife.

Smith destroyed much of his correspondence with his true wife and then deeded to her the house in which they had lived at Woodstock, Vt., by her maiden name, Eveline Verona Ingalsh.

That he intended a permanent repudiation of his wife was demonstrated, says the chancellor, by his destruction of his letters, the execution of the deed to her by her maiden name and his leaving New England and introducing Miss Gilkerson as his wife.

He was twenty-three years her senior and greatly her inferior in intellect. This enhanced her brilliancy in his eyes. It was her ambition to be his wife and she exerted all her watchfulness to keep Smith's children away.

She had no children and she utilized the fact of her medical education to make Smith believe he lacked the power of procreation. His announcement that he never married Eveline may be attributed to his belief that the ceremony was illegal. His declaration that he had every reason to believe that he never was a father may have been founded upon his faith in Agnes's advice.

"It appears to me," says the Chancellor, "to be impossible, under the proofs that Smith had, that, with his strong common-sense which had made him rich, he should have made the assumptions attributed to him by various witnesses."

The interpretation which treats his declaration as falsehoods appears to be susceptible of stronger support. It was of vital importance to Agnes that Smith's compact with her to cast off his family should be faithfully observed, for at Smithville she had risen in appearance from the disgraceful position she held at first to the honorable position of wife. Society looked upon her as virtuous and held out its arms to her.

The situation of Smith was little different. He had introduced this young woman as his wife in a new community where he had invested his estate and had become respected. For the sake of his illicit love he had basely severed all the natural ties of his past life.

As he rose in public estimation he was made a bank and railroad director, and became ambitious to hold greater offices. If, after the death of Agnes, he paused to consider his course, it is evident he chose to continue in it, and to further raise himself in public estimation by posing as a philanthropist.

The court points out as against the presumption of undue influence the lapse of five years between the making of the will and the death of Agnes, and says that it has failed to reach the conclusion of the orphans' court that the will should be denied probate. Such a conclusion would have accorded with the Chancellor's sympathy for the forsaken wife and children, but his strong conviction that Smith possessed testamentary capacity and was free from undue influence must control his judicial action. If a testator observes the requirements of the law and possesses testamentary capacity he may lawfully make an unjust will.

He then reverses the decree and admits the will to probate, taxing the costs upon the estate.

The will, thus legalized, provides for the establishment of a school for training young mechanics and cuts off his wife and children without a penny.

THE ENRIGHT DEFEATED.

Josephine Winner of the Detroit Race.

A Measurement of the Two Boats Gave the Race to the Latter By Twenty Seconds.

In spite of the two days' racing between the Josephine and Alice Enright, says the Detroit News, the result is not likely to settle the dispute as to the superiority of either boat.

The Tuesday course was changed, the start being made from a point about a mile west of Milk river point, and the first leg being sailed to leeward, leaving the yachts to do their tacking on their return. The wind about noon was the same as on Monday, northwest by west, but in the afternoon it changed to the north.

The Josephine again got started first, crossing the line at 1:19:50, with single-reefed mainsail, club topsail and jib. The only change in the crew of the Josephine was the substitution of J. H. Hinger, of the Pappoose, for Frank Kramer.

The Enright came flying in the Josephine's wake at 1:22, with double-reefed mainsail, working gaff topsail, spinnaker, jib and staysail, all rounded out with the 15-mile breeze that was blowing.

There was one less man in the crew, which was changed considerably. Capt. Petite was assisted by Chas. Klauser, of Toledo, one of the Enright's crew in her old days of triumph, James Brown, John Ackerman and Charles Allen.

The yachts sailed very evenly for the first half hour, when a steam barge ran into the Enright's path and the yacht lost several seconds in getting back on her course. The Josephine rounded the stake at 2:31:40, with the Enright following 2 minutes and 25 seconds later. This showed that the Josephine had beaten the Enright half a minute in the first 10 miles to leeward.

The return was even more interesting than the trip to leeward. First the Josephine would be ahead and then the Enright. It soon became apparent that on the starboard tack the Enright gained, but when the Josephine tried the same tack she lost, while the Enright made slower progress on the port tack.

The Josephine crossed the line at 5:25:40, the Enright had made the 20 miles in one minute and 10 seconds less than the Josephine boys, but the Josephine boys were not content to give up the race. They claimed that a careful measurement should be made. W. H. Granger, the official measurer, went over the boats last Sunday and decided that the Josephine was entitled to 1 minute 8 seconds of time, which would give the Enright the race by 2 seconds. It was finally decided that a remeasurement should be made.

The remeasurement was made at noon and the race was given to the Josephine by 20 seconds.

CLUB AND SOCIAL.

Opening Meeting Toledo Society Economic Inquiry.

There was a fair attendance at the opening meeting of the Society of Economic Inquiry last evening. The resignation of Secretary Severance, on account of pressure of other business, was accepted, and Chas. R. Martin was elected to the office.

The paper for the November meeting will be upon Taxation, the essayist Mrs. R. L. Segur. Discussion upon the paper will be lead by Rev. Geo. Candee and Miss Olive Brown.

The paper last evening, upon Chrsitian Socialism, was by Rev. Dr. Bacon, who presented the convictions entertained by that school of thought. It is the belief of the Christian Socialist that the present competitive and economical system is essentially un-Christian. The fatal fallacy, that "religion is one thing and business is another," is a belief out of which the Christian man of business must be brought. To do this is one aim and at present the principal work of Christian socialism.

Those who accept its doctrines are generally of opinion that for the competitive system must be substituted collective ownership and control of land and capital, and this advocacy of collectivism transforms the Christian into the Christian socialist. In making these statements Dr. Bacon desired the listeners to bear in mind that all Christian socialists did not reach these conclusions, and that he himself was the expositor, and not the defender of these views.

It is in a sense true that all men who desire the spirit of Christ to permeate business, social and political relations of man to man are Christian socialists, and many men may be called by this name who do not so classify themselves.

The Ramabai circle met with Mrs. E. M. Pike yesterday afternoon. This organization is for the purpose of aiding in the education of the child-widows of India, and at yesterday's meeting the most recent news from various centers of British India was reviewed, with reports upon the present agitation for reform at these centers.

From Madras, Mrs. Pike read a letter describing the interest some educated East India gentlemen are taking in the advancement of women, and the molding of public opinion to abolish domestic customs which obtain, and subjugate women to conditions of slavery. These persons advise mass meetings in the open air, conducted by women, for the agitation of their grievances, and the injustice which they suffer.

Mrs. Richard Eck gave a reading portraying the influence of oriental manners and customs over the British-Indian element, the writer holding that Europeans are rather moulded to Asiatic customs than that they impress their ideas upon the Asiatics. Discussion on this point was to the effect that this view is a one-sided one.

From Bengal, an account was received of the recent mob insurrection against the pending bill raising the age of consent to 12 years. The educated classes favor the bill, but the priests and lower classes oppose it, on the grounds that it will destroy their religion, and if infant marriage is abolished, will also destroy caste.

Mrs. Charles Peck gave a synopsis of the history of the rite of suttee. Its origin arose from the fact that an Indian princess committed suicide in the twelfth century, by jumping upon her husband's funeral pyre, and being smothered in its flames. The priests seized the opportunity to preach the holiness of the sacrifice, and later incorporated it in their religious works. The widow suicides at first were voluntary, in accordance with the civil law, but later the church made it compulsory, drugging the widows with opium and burning them while in an unconscious condition, especially if they were wealthy, when avaricious relatives aided the priests in carrying out the rite of suttee. The custom grew in atrocity until abolished by British government during the present century.

The further discussion led to the conviction that British ideas do exert a powerful influence for good upon India, notwithstanding impatient reformers argue to the contrary. Progress in India is being brought about through English power and rule.

The next meeting of the circle will be held with Mrs. R. L. Segur on the afternoon of November 17.

The subject of the paper which Mrs. Judge Harmon will read before the Women's Colloquial club to-morrow afternoon is, "The Higher Education of Women." This club, which meets in the Law kindergarten rooms, Central Congregational church, is open to all women, having neither rules of membership nor fees. All interested in domestic, social and political questions are welcomed to the meetings.

The Misses Campbell and Smith, teachers of cooking in the Manual Training school, have kindly consented to talk to working girls upon the organization of an evening cooking school. The meeting will be in Walbridge hall, next Wednesday evening, and all interested are invited to be present.

OUT ON A STRIKE.

Bellaire, Oct. 22.—The machinists and engineers at the Bellaire steel works are out on a strike, the entire plant being shut down, leaving 200 men idle. The trouble first arose over the firm asking the men to do Sunday work at regular intervals. The company refuses to allow more than single time for this work and the men asked double time, as it threw them out of a holiday.

TRANS-MISSISSIPPI CONGRESS.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 22.—The debate on the free coinage of silver, which was on the program for this session of the trans-Mississippi congress, was deferred until some later session and ex-Gov. Hubbard, of Texas, addressed the delegates on a deep water harbor on the gulf.

WOMEN REGISTER AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—It is estimated that 10,000 women applied to be registered with a view to voting at the coming election in this city. Of this number about 700 secured the placing of their names on the list of voters.

The many friends of Mr. C. P. Klingenberg, of lower town, will be grieved to learn of his death after an illness of eight weeks. Mr. Klingenberg was a loving father and husband and highly esteemed by all who knew him, and will be greatly mourned. The funeral was held at the residence, 931 Ash street, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Collars 2c, cuffs 4c, shirts 10c, at the Toledo Steam Laundry. Phone 438.

Jahu DeWitt Miller, whose lecture on "The Uses of Ugliness" convulsed a Star Course audience at Wheeler's last year, appears in the Association Course at Y. M. C. A. hall, Friday evening. His subject is, "Love, Courtship and Marriage," and Association members are admitted free with lady, by showing membership ticket at door. Admission to others 50 cents.

The clothing you buy of us is equal in every respect to the best tailor made, at much less prices.

THE ALBERT MEDICAL DISPENSARY

82, 84 and 86 Euclid Avenue, Next to Opera House, Cleveland, O.

A PERMANENT INSTITUTION of many years standing. Established for the special treatment of NERVOUS, CHRONIC, SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES.

NERVOUS DEBILITY,

Decay of Body and Mind, Self Distrust,

POOR MEMORY, WEAK EYES,

STUNTED DEVELOPMENT, LACK OF ENERGY,

Impoverished Blood, Low Vitality,

And all effects of

ABUSES, EXCESSES, IMPROPER LIFE, ETC.,

which renders MARRIAGE UNHAPPY and LIFE MISERABLE

Are

PRIVATELY, SAFELY AND PERMANENTLY CURED.

Nervous Debility.

Those suffering from Nervous Debility, the symptoms of which are a dull distressed mind, which unfits them for performing business and social duties; make happy marriages impossible, distress the action of the heart, causing flushes of heat, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, cowardice, fear, dreams, short breathings, melancholy, tire easily of company and have a preference to be alone; feeling as tired in the morning as when retiring; lost manhood, white bone deposits in the urine, nervousness, trembling, confusion of thoughts, watery and weak eyes, dyspepsia, constipation, paleness, pain and weakness in the limbs, etc., should consult us immediately and be restored to health. By a wise course of treatment, adapted to your age, sex and physical condition, the tone of your system can be raised, the tendency to impure thoughts removed, and the strength and vigor of health restored to the debilitated organs.

Marriage.

Married persons or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualifications, speedily relieved. He who places himself under our care may confide in our honor as gentlemen, and confidently rely on our skill as Physicians. We have had many years experience in hospitals and private practice and are graduates of the most eminent Medical Colleges of the U. S.

Organal Weakness

Immediately cured and full vigor restored. This distressing affliction which renders life a burden and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by victims of improper indulgence. The most chaste must acknowledge that the passions are the great magnet by which the whole world is attracted. Destroy them and what have we? Man is no longer interested in the opposite sex; the interchange of that blissful repose which attracts and interests the whole world, exists no longer; man ceases to be what God made him; the world is no longer interesting to him, and remorse and disappointment are his constant companions. We have devoted years to the study of the best methods of treating the various forms in which this disease manifests itself. We treat every case on its own merits; and thousands to-day join in thanking us for the new lease of life and happiness our skill has opened up to them.

Young Men who have become victims of SOLITARY VICE—that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave, thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with full confidence.

We address all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for business, study, society or marriage.

☞ A PERFECT RESTORATION GUARANTEED. ☜

A CURE WARRANTED.

PERSONS RUINED IN HEALTH by UNLEARNED PRETENDERS, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving POISONOUS AND INJURIOUS COMPOUNDS, should apply immediately.

REMARKABLE CURES

Perfected in OLD CASES which have been NEGLECTED or UNSKILLFULLY TREATED. No Experiments or Failures. Parties treated by mail and express, but where possible, one personal interview is preferred.

Curable Cases Guaranteed. Address with postage
